"Strange all this difference should be,
'Twixt Tweedle-dum and Tweedle-dee."

Wayne B. Wheeler takes his brain in both hands and after a masterly analysis announces that Bill Vare's nomination for the Senate proves that Pennsylvania is as dry as the Statistical Abstract.

French finance leaps to a new pinnacle of stability as France with renewed strength take another drop. It's understood that Mr. Wheeler is now offering a premium in gold for 'em.

Five hundred Syrians under the protecting League of Nations mandate are slain by the French in Damascus—with our money! No wonder the franc hides its face in shame.

"Let us grasp the situation,
Solve the complicated plot—
Quiet, calm deliberation
Disentangles every knot."

If Wayne B. Wheeler had been an umpire yesterday he'd have awarded that game to Washington for having made fewer hits and no runs. It's high time we disentangled some of these knots and stopped slipping.

"And party leaders you might meet
In twos and threes in every street
Maintaining with no little heat,
Their various opinions."

But right slam bang in the midst of the spirited discussion of the smashing victory won by the Administration in Pennsylvania, up rises Jim Reed with the opinion that something terrible was going on somewhere and that something ought to be done about it somehow, regardless of the Constitution and the Supreme Court, and straightway Jim Reed's opinion becomes the majority opinion, and Senators in a panic vote to investigate, themselves to see if they're crooked or not! Let us trust this is not a case of conscience making cowards of 'em all.

Senator Pepper's vote would have been larger but for the fact that two Andy Mellon henchmen were challenged at the polls in Pittsburgh, and the odor of clove being detected on their breath they were disqualified.

A thrill of exquisite pleasure vibrates the sensitive spinal column of Bill Culbertson, our well-known Minister to Roumania, when in the midst of laudatory praise of Mr. Coolidge before the tariff committee one of his letters bawling out the President is suddenly submitted in evidence. This proves that Willie is very diplomatic and should be an Ambassador.

Coming as it does upon the heels of the primaries in Illinois and Indiana the enthusiastic endorsement given Mr. Coolidge by the stalwarts of Pennsylvania is calculated to make the Hon. Jim Watson abandon those sweet dreams of some day being a mere Vice President.

Not only was the "Fog Bank" particularly foggy yesterday, with the low visibility of Pat Harrison's keynote, but the "Cave of the Winds," as Donn Piatt used to call the House, was equally interesting meteorologically. The debate on farm relief is exactly like one of those back-yard whirlwinds that go round and round in a circle without ever getting anywhere.

The death of W. E. D. Stokes is calculated to afford as much relief to the congested courts of the country as the creation by Congress of six additional judicial districts.

If the National Retail Coal Merchants will attend to their business of seeing that the people of the District get their fuel when they need it we'll attend to getting the ballot when we want it. Kind words stoke no furnaces.

With Mr. Hugh Gibson playing a stellar role at Geneva the country may rest easy in the reflection that the American attitude is correct down to the last button on a pearl gray spat.

Al Smith signs the bill full of confidence, but there are pretty nearly enough bootleggers in New York city alone to defeat that referendum.

From the time of William Penn, the first American political boss, Pennsylvania has never been able to worry along without one. Boies Penrose at last has a successor who won't wobble around in his shoes like a pea in a tin wash boiler.

After having been under what the headline writers would call a "ban" since 1911, chewing gum is restored as a part of the ration in the navy. The fighting jaw must have exercise.

500 CIVILIANS SLAIN AS FRENCH KILL 100 DAMASCUS DRUSES

City Is Shelled Heavily for 15 Hours; 300
Houses Razed.

ATTACK PROVOKED BY SALLY OF REBELS

Women and Children Die in Battle; Syrians Join in Revenge Effort.

London, May 20 (By A. P.).—A dispatch to the Daily Express from Damascus dated May 9 says:

"The city has undergone another bombardment by artillery and airplanes. More than 500 civilians, including women and children, and about 100 rebels and 20 French were killed.

"Three hundred houses were destroyed. The dispatch says the bombardment was briefly reported May 11, when it was announced that 50 rebels had been killed, but that the real extent of the damage done or the casualties were not made known.

According to the correspondent's account of the affair, the rebels attacked some French army posts, killing eight soldiers and capturing 20. Two hundred rebels then retired into Osdan—a southern quarter of the city of Damascus—and barricaded themselves in houses.

Residents Told to Leave. Early the next morning, 3,000 French troops surrounded the quarter, which contains 80,000 inhabitants, and summoned the people to deliver up the rebels, declaring that otherwise they would be bombarded.

The reply of the inhabitants was that they were unarmed and were unable to coerce the rebels. They invited the French to enter and capture them.

"Such an attempt," the correspondent continues, "would have involved a serious sacrifice in lives of the soldiers. Accordingly, the inhabitants were given an hour to quit the quarter and go to a defined safety area.

"Only a few succeeding in leaving in time. The French then began bombarding the quarter with twelve 3-inch guns, four howitzers and a dozen airplanes.

"The shelling lasted unceasingly for fifteen hours.

Panic Follows Fires.

"Fires broke out immediately. The sky was darkened by smoke and dust. General panic followed. The male inhabitants joined the rebels in attacking the French.

"Women and children rushed aimlessly through the streets, falling victims to bursting shells or collapsing houses.

"One woman, with a child in her arms, shielded a rebel with her body, trusting that the soldiers would not fire upon her. The rebel, however, continued to fire from behind the woman and both she and the rebel were killed.

"In another case, the driver of a French armored car risked his life to save a woman from a Circassian soldier who was robbing her.

No Other Course Seen.

"One hundred and ten rebels escaped, penetrating the French line, and making their way into the open country. It is stated that several hundred hitherto peaceful persons in the bombarded section have joined the rebels to revenge themselves.

"Syrians generally admit the difficulties of the French and say they could not see how the French could have acted otherwise. No historic monuments were destroyed on this occasion, as was the case during the bombardment ordered by the French general, Sarrail, in October."

U. S. Ship and 28 Men Given Up As Lost

London, May 19 (By A. P.).—The American freight steamer Suduffco, owned by the Transmarine Corporation, was posted at Lloyds today as missing.

Posting of the Suduffco at Lloyds means that all hope for the vessel, which left Port Newark, N. J., on March 13, has been abandoned by the underwriters. The Suduffco, with a general cargo valued at $500,000, carried a crew of 28. She was bound for San Francisco via the Panama canal. She was last heard from on March 15.

BRIAND AND PERET DRAW PLAN TO RESTORE FRANC

Agreement Announced After Cabinet Members Meet
With President.

MARKET SEES RECOVERY

Paris, May 19 (By A. P.).—President Doumergue, Premier Briand and M. Peret, the finance minister, together with the governor and all the regents of the Bank of France have agreed upon measures to restore the franc as soon as possible. M. Peret, who has just returned from London, informed the correspondents to this effect after a long conference at Elysee palace this evening.

The finance minister remarked that naturally, the measures in mind must be kept secret, but added, that the whole question of exchange and the causes of fluctuations had been examined thoroughly. Speaking of the London negotiations, M. Peret said:

"The conversations have simply been suspended. We are seeking to make our viewpoints agree. I must return to London as soon as possible, but, naturally, that depends upon political events. Representatives of the Bank of France are remaining in London because a certain number of technical points are to be examined, which they can try to settle, reserving the larger question of agreement in principle."

The minister said that his conversations with Sir Austen Chamberlain, the British foreign secretary, and Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer, demonstrated to him that the British statesman undoubtedly were well disposed to aid France.

Edison Makes First Speech Over Radio

Atlantic City, May 19 (By A. P.).—Thomas A. Edison made his radio debut tonight. "I have never spoken over the radio before—good night!" were the words spoken into the microphone of station WEAF by the inventor, who thereby broke his previously announced intention of never speaking over the air.

Mr. Edison was a guest at a dinner of the National Electric Light Association with Secretary of Labor James J. Davis and Dr. Lee De Forest. Mr. Edison saw a demonstration of the De Forest talking motion pictures.

Sugar Law in Effect, Cuban President Says

(By Associated Press.)
Rafael Sanchez Aball, the Cuban Ambassador, last night announced that he had received a cablegram from President Machado, of Cuba, denying reports the Ambassador said he had received that the recently enacted sugar curtailment law was not being applied.

The message, the Ambassador said, stated that the law is being applied without concessions of any kind. It added that the new Cuban crop will not be marketed until January 1, 1927, and that all dispositions contained in the new law "are directed to maintain Cuba's purpose in cooperating for the establishment of an international balance in the sugar production of the world in relation to normal consumption." The president's statement was in response to an inquiry by the Ambassador, who said reports of overproduction of sugar were having a depressing effect upon the American sugar market.

PARK AND PLANNING COMMISSION NAMED FOR CITY BEAUTIFUL

Coolidge Names Members Provided For in Recent Measure.

LIST OF ASSOCIATES TO HELP IN WORK

Body Will Develop Comprehensive Plan to Make Washington Attractive.

Washington, the City Beautiful, designed to be the rival artistically of any other capital in the world, is to become an assured fact. Final steps to carry out the plans of utilizing all of the resources of the government in city planning were taken by President Coolidge yesterday. He named the four civilian members of the National Capital park and planning commission provided for in the recent measure enacted by Congress and approved by him on April 30.

These designated citizens are: Frederick Law Olmsted, of Brookline, Mass., the leading city planner, architect and landscape planner in this country, who will serve a term of six years; Frederic A. Delano, of the District of Columbia, term five years; J. C. Nichols, of Kansas City, term of four years, and Milton R. Medary, Jr., of Philadelphia, term of three years.

Many Associates.

Associated with them are the following officials: Maj. Gen. Harry Taylor, chief of engineers; Lieut. Col. J. Franklin Bell, engineer commissioner, District of Columbia; Stephen T. Mather, director national park service; W. B. Greeley, chief forest service; Arthur Capper, chairman Senate District committee; Frederick N. Zihlman, chairman of the House District committee, and Maj. U. S. Grant, director of public buildings and grounds.

President Coolidge has taken a very personal interest in the project for creating a super body which will pass upon all of the problems affecting Washington and do all that is possible in compelling future development to follow the most modern and artistic lines. Under the enabling act enlarging the National Capital park commission the title of that body is officially made the National Capital park and planning commission and its duties are specifically set out in the most comprehensive form.

The commission is to "develop a comprehensive, consistent and coordinated plan for the National Capital and its environs in the States of Maryland and Virginia; to preserve the flow of water in Rock Creek park; to prevent the pollution of Rock creek, the Potomac and Anacostia rivers; to preserve the forests and natural scenery in and around Washington and to provide for the comprehensive, systematic and continuous development of park, parkways and playground systems of the National Capital and its environs."

Civilian members of the commission serve without compensation but the law provides they shall

CULBERTSON SHOWN CRITIC OF COOLIDGE IN PRIVATE LETTER

Forgotten Note Confronts
Former Tariff Board
Commissioner.

BRANDED APPOINTING OF BROSSARD "RAW"

On Stand at the Inquiry, He Defends President's Course on Sugar.

(By the Associated Press.)

While defending President Coolidge before the special Senate tariff investigating committee, William S. Culbertson, Minister to Roumania and former tariff commissioner, yesterday was taken by surprise by the production of a letter he had written Commissioner Costigan last July assailing the President's policies.

The letter, written on legation stationery at Bucharest and dealing with the appointment of Edgar E. Brossard to the tariff commission, said Culbertson would feel fully justified in leaving the commission "if this appointment is to be regarded as a revelation of the President's policy."

"I did not suppose Coolidge would do the thing so rawly if he did it at all," the letter said. "Evidently our suspicions were correct and Brossard has been playing with the sugar lobby and now he has his reward. I can imagine the effect on the staff. They must feel that honesty is not the best policy."

The letter concluded with "more power to your arm in the fight you are in. Affectionately yours."

Mr. Culbertson plainly was vexed over the introduction of the letter by Senator La Follette (Republican, Wisconsin), a member of the committee. He declared it was a personal and private communication to an intimate friend and was never intended to be used as a public document.

Had Forgotten Letter.

Explaining that he had forgotten the letter, Mr. Culbertson charged Commissioner Costigan had made improper use of his private papers without his consent, and added that his documents were used by Senator Norris (Republican, Nebraska), in speeches without his knowledge or consent and wrong constructions were placed on them.

During the testimony Commissioner Costigan several times held whispered conversations with Senator Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas,

Vare Leading by 98,000; Nomination Is Conceded

Pepper, Second in Race, Says Philadelphia Organization,
Not Liquor Question, Gave Victory—Vare
Sees Wet Cohorts Triumphant.

Philadelphia, May 19 (By A. P.). Representative William S. Vare's plurality over Senator George Wharton Pepper in the contest for the Republican nomination for United States senator dropped below 100,000 tonight. Figures for 7,656 districts out of 8,281 in the State gave Vare a lead of 98,592. Vare's vote was 583,839, Pepper's 485,247. Gov. Pinchot, running third in the contest, had 319,296 votes in these districts.

Interest in the senatorial and gubernatorial results delayed the returns for lieutenant governor and secretary of internal affairs. Scattering figures indicated a lead for Arthur H. James, the Vare-Beidleman candidate for lieutenant governor, over Col. Ernest G. Smith, his opponent on the Pepper-Fisher ticket. There were four other candidates.

James F. Woodward, now in his second term as secretary of internal affairs, was nominated for the office again over two other candidates.

Returns of the Democratic contest for governor also were delayed. Judge Eugene C. Bonnell, of Philadelphia, running as an independent wet candidate, led Judge Samuel E. Shull, backed by Joseph R. Guffey, of Pittsburgh, Democratic national committeeman, by 4,675 votes in 4,653 districts. Judge William E. Porter, candidate of the faction, headed by Vance C.

McCormick, former national chairman, was third. The vote was: Bonnell, 44,186; Shull, 39,511; Porter, 33,221.

His opponents in the three-corner primary fight, which ended at the polls yesterday, Senator George Wharton Pepper and Gov. Gifford Pinchot conceded his nomination, as returns from outlying districts failed by a wide margin to overcome the Philadelphia lead. His nearest rival, Senator Pepper, whose candidacy had the backing of some of the dry forces and of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, attributed the Vare victory to "the organization," and declared an analysis of the returns failed to show any issue upon which the contest turned.

The total Republican vote was the largest ever cast in a State primary.

Reports that Gov. Pinchot may become an independent candidate for the senatorship were in the air during the campaign, but even when called to the governor's attention failed to bring any expression from him. In his statement today he said he had made a "clean-cut, open fight for certain great, definite principles, and I'm glad I made it."

Other candidates on the Vare ticket were leading their opponents in the incomplete returns, although

TACNA-ARICA PARTITION AGREEMENT IS REPORTED

Accord Reached in Principle
Here, Lima Hears, for Dividing Provinces.

BOLIVIA GETS CORRIDOR

Lima, Peru, May 19 (By A. P.). Peruvian official circles here asserted that an agreement in principle has been reached at Washington for a partition of the disputed provinces of Tacna and Arica among Chile, Peru and Bolivia.

While the government itself is maintaining strictest reserve in the matter, these circles declare that under the agreement the province Tacna would go to Peru, that of Arica to Chile, while a corridor to Bolivia as a means for an outlet to the sea in return for pecuniary indemnification of Peru and Chile.

(By the Associated Press.)

Division of Tacna-Arica between Chile, Peru and Bolivia is conceded to be the basis of settlement negotiations in progress here, but the pledged secrecy that has guarded them still served last night to withhold confirmation.

Secretary Kellogg and the Peruvian and Chilean Ambassadors have steadfastly declined to discuss the trend of the conversation, except to say that they were continuing and that a settlement was hoped for.

INQUIRY INTO COSTS OF ELECTIONS VOTED BY SENATE, 59 TO 13

Measure Regarded Step to Wrest the Control
From Coolidge.

PRIMARY, GENERAL CONTESTS INVOLVED

27 States Included; Result in Pennsylvania Held Blow to Dry Bills.

By ALBERT W. FOX.

Hailing the defeat of Senator Pepper as a blow to the Coolidge administration, Democrats and insurgent Republicans seized the initiative on the floor of the Senate yesterday in an apparent attempt to wrest political control in connection with the coming senatorial elections.

A sweeping resolution to investigate all contributions and expenditures in senatorial primary and election campaigns was brought up and displaced the unfinished business. It was passed before administration senators had had time to discuss it. The resolution, of which Senator Reed, of Missouri, is the author, will enable a special committee of five senators to investigate the reported expenditure of from $2,000,000 to $5,000,000 in Pennsylvania and will likewise enable this committee to investigate every one of the coming 27 Republican senatorial campaigns.

Meanwhile, the result of Vare's decisive victory was discussed everywhere. At the White House there was no word forthcoming, though Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and Senator Reed, of Pennsylvania, both visited the President. The effect of the vote on the wet and dry issue was conceded to be of distinct importance and hopes for a tightening up of prohibition legislation at this session are now believed to have gone aglimmering. But the outstanding feature of the day was the unexpected development in the Senate.

Republicans Surprised.

Republican ranks, temporarily demoralized by the Democratic taunts over Pepper's defeat, were taken apparently by surprise when the resolution was forced through. Many senators had never even read the resolution when they found themselves confronted with the choice of voting for or against it. Senator Reed's motion to take it up and to displace the civil service retirement bill came after Senator Harrison had twitted administration senators with the Pennsylvania result and had referred to newspaper reports of lavish expenditures of money on Senator Pepper's behalf, which the senator from Mississippi characterized as making the alleged $195,000 Newberry expenses dwindle into insignificance.

The regular Republicans voted solidly against taking up the Reed resolution, but the Democrats voted solidly in favor of the resolution and the votes of Couzens, Lenroot and McNary added to the usual list of Republican insurgents soon made it apparent that the motion would carry. It prevailed by a vote of 48 to 34.

Senator Reed, of Missouri, had the floor and it was assumed that he intended to make a speech in support of his resolution. Instead he moved its immediate adoption. For some reason no one on the Republican side intervened or rose to discuss the resolution. As Senator Bingham said, after it was all over the administration senators could not very well discuss it as they had not had time to even read it. Anyway, the roll call started and then most of the Republicans, who had voted against taking it up, voted for its adoption or remained silent. As a result the motion carried, 59 to 13.

Adopted Hurriedly.

As soon as the result was announced, Senator Reed announced that there had been an interval of only seven and three-quarter minutes between the vote on taking up the resolution and the vote on its adoption.

"In that interval of time, 31 senators changed their minds," he added. "That is not a fair statement," interjected Senator Curtis, the majority leader, who pointed out that the first vote involved the displacement of the unfinished business. But Senator Reed maintained that this change of Republican votes on this question was highly significant. "If we had three or four minutes more, the other thirteen would have changed their minds," he added.

LAWYER BADLY INJURED AS AUTO IS DEMOLISHED

William B. O'Connell Is Victim of Unexplained Crash in Maryland.

UNABLE TO TELL CAUSE

William B. O'Connell, 31 years old, prominent local attorney, living in the DeSoto apartments, is in the Georgetown University hospital in a serious condition, suffering from undetermined injuries to the head and body received late last night when the automobile in which he was riding crashed over a deep embankment on the Maryland State highway, 4 miles east of the Congressional Country club.

The injured man was lifted out of the wreckage by passing motorists and rushed to the hospital, where his condition was found to be such that he was unable to tell how the accident happened or who was with him at the time.

The machine, an expensive touring car, was shattered to bits, according to police. The accident was discovered shortly after it occurred, according to police, as the motor of the car, which was buried in the ground, was still warm when O'Connell was picked from the wreckage.

O'Connell was returning from an all-day outing of the District Bar association at the Congressional Country club.

Fumes of Mash Kill Man and His Wife

Steuenville, Ohio, May 19 (By A. P.).—What was at first believed to have been a double murder today proved to be an accident. County authorities this afternoon announced that investigation revealed that Omar Miller, 30, and his wife, Mrs. Ethel Miller, 20, who were found dead in a pit of a sawmill near their home, at Berghoff, Jefferson county, were victims of fumes from fermentation of mash.

The two bodies were found this morning by neighbors after a search. Coroner Bell reports that poison fumes from the mash caused their deaths.

Wet Can Not Unite Party, Says Blease

Columbia, S. C., May 19 (By A. P.).—A combination of the different factions of the Democratic party will never be attained by making liquor an issue, Senator Cole L. Blease told the State Democratic convention here today.

Asserting that the leadership of the party was split and that it must "get together," Senator Blease declared such a result could not be obtained through the election of a "wet" as a leader.

"The majority of the people of the nation are opposed to legalizing the thing that makes for the ruin of their children, soul and body."

ZONE COMMISSION TO HEAR PROPOSED AMENDMENT TODAY

Lively Interest Centers in All-Day Public Discussion of Changes.

AA RESTRICTED PLAN MAY BE ABANDONED

Petitions of Citizens for Revision of Areas Are to Be Considered.

Lively interest centers in an all-day public hearing today before the zoning commission, the principal item being revised drafts of the proposed amendment to the zoning code, considered last month, to create a classification of property to be available only for detached residences with yards on each side of every house.

The first attempt to bring this about was in the form of a proposal for an AA restricted zoning. Coupled with this was an amendment to permit community houses, three in a row, to be built in A restricted area, wherever semidetached houses are permitted. So much opposition to this plan developed that it was abandoned and now it is proposed to bar semidetached houses from AA restricted area and to ban hotels, apartment houses and community houses from A area.

This double proposal is first on the day's program and will be taken up at 10 a. m., followed by another proposed amendment to require frontage setbacks representing 75 per cent of the property within 200 feet for establishment of new lot yards.

Requests for Changes.

The following requests for changes in zoning will be heard at the morning session:

Area bounded by Southern avenue, Forty-second street and Ridge and Bowen roads southeast, from first commercial C to residential A.

Both sides of Nichols avenue, Livingston road and South Capitol and Atlantic streets between Fourth street east and the District line, except on Nichols avenue between Upal street and Wilmington place, from first commercial C, 60-foot, to residential A, 40-foot.

Property in Brookland, between Michigan avenue, Bunker Hill road and Fifteenth, Twelfth and Kearny streets, except on commercial frontage on Twelfth street northeast, A to A restricted area.

Both sides of Montello avenue northeast from Florida avenue to Mount Olivet road and the north side of Florida avenue northeast between Montello and West Virginia avenues, from residential B to first commercial C.

The north side of Massachusetts avenue northeast from C to D, and Third street, 60-foot to 90-foot height limitation.

Afternoon Session.

At the afternoon session, beginning at 1:30 o'clock, the item of principal interest is the proposed change of territory in Manor Park, between Underwood, Peabody, Fifth and Ninth streets northwest, from A and A restricted to B restricted area. This change is asked by the Wardman Construction Co. to permit of garden city type of development, including community houses. Other proposed changes to be heard at the afternoon session include the following:

Both sides of Thirteenth street northwest between M and O streets and both sides of L street northwest from New Hampshire street to Twenty-fourth street, from residential to first commercial.

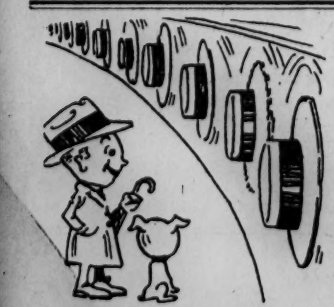

Second commercial property between Eighth and Ninth streets northwest, north of Barry place, to D area.

Property in Richmond Park, bounded by Reno road, Quebec street and Rowland place northwest, and a tract bounded by Kline and Woodley roads and Connecticut and Cathedral avenues, except that abutting the last three named thoroughfares, A restricted to A area.

The northeast corner of Fourteenth and W streets northwest, first commercial to second commercial.

Rear of lots at 912 and 918 Seventeenth streets northwest, 90-foot to 150 foot height restriction.

be paid actual expenses of subsistence not in excess of $10 per day and their actual traveling expenditures.

Under the provisions of the law the commission is authorized to recommend comprehensive plans as to travel and transportation; plans and subdivisions; highways, parks, parkways; school and library sites; housing, building and loan regulation; public and private buildings, bridges and waterfronts; development of commerce and industry and all proper elements of city planning.

It is to exercise the maximum amount of cooperation and correlation of effort between the departments, bureaus and commissions of the federal government. It also is given authority to call for plans and records of the District government.

Network of Parkways.

Through the commission, the suggestion of a network of ornamental parkways and highways leading in and out of the city from Maryland and Virginia will be worked out because authority is conferred in the enabling act for it to act in conjunction with designated officials of these States along this line.

The new commission is empowered to employ a director of planning and other experts on city planning problems; engineers, architects and landscape architects, and to fix their salaries on a per diem basis at the average paid for such work.

It is understood that the newly appointed civilian members of the commission will take the oath of office at a very early date and that then a general meeting of the full commission to work out a general plan of procedure under the law will be held.

Retention of Forts Sought For District's Park Plan

Members of the District committee of Congress and the National Capital Parks and Planning Commission will strive to retain Fort Washington, Md., and Fort Hunt, Va., for the District's parking program.

Inclusion of these reservations by the War Department in a new list scheduled for sale, if congressional approval is forthcoming, has reawakened interest in the move to save them. Some time ago a report of the prospective sale stirred opposition, but they were included in the first list of government reservations to be sold.

Prompt steps will be taken to retain the forts as part of the recreation program of the District, but the committees and the park and planning commission have not yet determined what these will be.

Engineer Alleges Bill Is Promoted by Group in Own Interests.

Charging that it was not in the interest of the United States, but in the interest of a group of contractors and planners, Gen. Taylor, chief of engineers of the United States army, last night attacked the Campbell bill, which would limit the engineer department to contract work and abolish discretionary use of day labor in the completion of projects.

The charges were made at a farewell dinner given in honor of the general, who is being retired from the army because he has reached the age limit set by law, last night at the Willard hotel, by former Representative J. Hampton Moore, president of the Atlantic Deepwaterway association, and which was attended by a large group of representatives and army officers.

Expressions of regret at the severance from the service of Gen. Taylor were voiced by senators and representatives of the various waterways committees. The election results in Pennsylvania and prohibition were mentioned by nearly all of the dozen or more speakers. The general urged the representative to work for the defeat of the bill in his closing remarks.

GEORGETOWN DEAN CRITICIZES DENTAL PROFESSORS' STRIKE

Walkout of Faculty Termed Worse Than Labor Trouble by the Rev. Summers.

PRESIDENT OF COLLEGE WITHHOLDS COMMENT

Classes Being Held as Usual by Alumni and Medical Department Teachers.

The controversy which reached a climax with the resignations of 27 members of the faculty of the dental school of Georgetown university was sharpened yesterday by a public criticism of the walkout of the faculty members by the Rev. W. G. Summers, dean of the dental school, as well as he is retired.

Father Summers described the walkout of the 27 faculty members as worse than a labor strike, inasmuch as university officials had not been consulted or given warning before the faculty rose in revolt over the reported purpose to name Lieut. Comdr. William Neal Cogan, of the navy, as dean of the dental school as well as he is retired, which will be in about a month.

The sharp statement of Father Summers was in distinct contrast to the attitude which has been followed publicly by the Rev. G. W. Lyon, president of the university, who has sought to minimize the importance of the faculty strike and emphasize the fact that none of the resignations have been acted upon.

Classes Held as Usual.

University officials declared the dental classes were held as usual yesterday with members of the faculty of the university medical school and alumni of the dental school as teachers. The former teachers are to hold a meeting in the dental school auditorium tomorrow night. Dr. Peter B. Bain, president of the faculty, declared, just what will be the outcome of faculty members and university officials refused to forecast.

Criticizing the action of the faculty, Father Summers declared that they had neither collectively nor individually taken up with university officials the question of appointment of a new dean. "I feel their walkout is worse than a labor strike, inasmuch as they did not give us the courtesy of any notice," he added. President Lyons declared the walkout had not affected classes.

None of the faculty members of university officers would make public the list of those who had resigned, nor would university officials comment more definitely on the reported naming of Lieut. Comdr. Cogan as dean than to say it was under consideration.

DAHLGREN SCHOOL NOW HELD ASSURED

Citizens Association Is Told Senate Probably Will Act Favorably.

Visualizing the speedy erection of a new Dahlgren school, Selden M. Ely, supervising principal of District public schools, last night addressed the Dahlgren Terrace citizens association, meeting in the Social Oyster club, 1251 Saratoga avenue northeast. Louis Radcliffe, president of the organization, presided and introduced the speaker.

Mr. Ely pointed out that appropriations have already been approved by the House of Representatives and that the required sum will doubtless meet with the approbation of the Senate. He congratulated members of the association on their activity in working to accomplish this purpose. A committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Joseph G. Kingsbury, has been appointed to select a suitable site for the new building.

Informal discussion about the school, which has been an object of concern to association members for some months, followed the close of the business session. A resolution requesting that Twelfth street between Rhode Island avenue and Monroe street northeast, be repaved, as recommended by the public utilities commission, was adopted. Approximately 30 members attended.

BAPTISTS DECLARE WAR ON MODERNIST BELIEFS

"Arrogance of Science" Is Assailed at Bible Union Convention.

HOLY WRIT IS DEFENDED

The Baptist Bible union of North America opened war on modernism, which will be continued throughout its six-day convention here, in a meeting which was filled with enthusiastic assertions of loyalty to fundamentalist doctrines last night in the Metropolitan Baptist church, Sixth and A streets northeast.

"Nothing beyond what is written," was the keynote of an address by the Rev. George Ragland, of Lexington, Ky., who bitterly attacked the "arrogance of science," the "overassertiveness of the wisdom of this world," and the trend of the modernist belief.

He explained that he had been a professor of Greek for 21 years before entering the ministry. His knowledge of Greek, he said, gave him better assurance in the accuracy of the Bible. His reading of the Scriptures was interlarded with explanations of the Greek meaning of the translated English word.

The Rev. Ragland, declaring that he had rather "trust Christ than critics," said that the Bible, instead of being unworthy of reliance, is the most truly scientific of books. The explanations of modern science, he said, have changed continually. Repeating frequently the words, "The finality of what is written," he quoted the admonition of Paul. He appealed to his hearers not "to fellowship" with those who will go beyond what is written.

The theory of evolution came in for a bitter attack. The Rev. T. T. Shields, of Toronto, Canada, presided.

WIDOW KILLS HERSELF, GRIEVING FOR HUSBAND

Mrs. A. C. Wiley Visits Former Home, Where She Takes Own Life.

SHE IS FOUND BY MOTHER

Mrs. Alletta C. Wiley, 50 years old, died last night in Emergency hospital from a self-inflicted bullet wound in the left temple. Mrs. Wiley is said to have been affected deeply by the death of her husband about a year ago and is believed to have taken her own life while in a despondent mood.

Mrs. Wiley, who has been living with her mother, Mrs. R. L. Magruder, at 2019 University place northwest, since the death of her husband, visited her former home at 1619 Varnum street northwest. It is believed that she was overwhelmed by memories of her loss while there and determined to join her husband in death. She shot herself through the left temple with a revolver.

Her continued absence worried the mother, who, after calling Mrs. Wiley's stepson, of the District Title Co., went to the Varnum street address in search of her daughter. Opening the door of a bedroom she found the unconscious form of her daughter reclining on the floor, with blood streaming from a wound in her temple and a revolver clutched in her hand.

Mrs. Magruder called the Emergency hospital ambulance, which took Mrs. Wiley to the hospital, where she later died.

Mrs. Wiley became despondent after the death of her husband, according to relatives, and was at one time an inmate of the Washington sanitarium and later of St. Elizabeths hospital, where she was given treatment.

WEDS AMBASSADOR'S DAUGHTER

LIEUT. AND MRS. JAMES M. McHUGH.

only that kindness and love which Mr. Stokes once showered upon her."

(By the Associated Press.)

The history of William Earle Dodge Stokes is chiefly the history of his litigation—both divorce and civil—which kept him almost constantly in the courts and the limelight.

Stokes was born in New York in 1853 and inherited from his banker father, James Stokes, property valued at $11,000,000. Figures revealed by his second wife when she sued him for dower rights showed that his net estate was $7,233,000.

On his graduation from Yale in 1874, Stokes showed a talent for finance and became associated with his father in business. On the latter's death he built the Ansonia hotel and conducted it until 1911, when he leased it for several million dollars.

His first marriage was in 1875, with Rita Hernandez de Alba Acosta, daughter of a wealthy Cuban family, described by Paul Helleu, the painter, as "the most nearly perfectly beautiful woman in the world." They had one child, W. E. D. Stokes, Jr., and in 1900 she divorced him, alleging infidelity.

In 1911, Stokes married Miss Helen Elwood, Denver, Colo. Two children were born to them.

Stokes, in 1919, began divorce proceedings, alleging misconduct by his wife "with upward of ten correspondents." Mrs. Stokes replied, charging "cruel and inhuman treatment." After two years' litigation the court ruled that Mrs. Stokes had not been proved unfaithful, but that she could not have a divorce because she had written endearing letters to her husband during the period of the "cruel treatment."

With difficulty Stokes obtained a retrial. But before it began District Attorney Pecora disclosed that four witnesses had testified falsely in relation to Stokes' charges against his wife. As a result the wife sued her stepson, W. E. D. Stokes, Jr., for $1,000,000, charging that he tried to defame her character. Stokes and several witnesses were indicted in Chicago on the same allegation.

The civil suit was dropped, while a jury acquitted Stokes of the criminal charges. The second divorce case again ended in the defeat of Stokes.

Mrs. Stokes meanwhile had started separation proceedings which resulted in an agreement by which Stokes was to have access at all times to their children who were to remain in the custody of their mother.

Shot by Chorus Girl.
Soon after Stokes was sued by various members of his legal counsel. The hotel man came in for some notoriety in 1911 shortly after his second marriage, when he went to the apartment of Ethel Conrad and Lillian Graham, chorus girls, to get some letters and was shot three times in the leg. The girls pleaded self-defense and were acquitted.

Stokes' only plunge into authorship also landed him in court. The book was entitled "The Right to Be Well Born" and his publishers sued him for $5,000 for work on it. He was also sued in 1907 for $4,500 by a Kentucky woman for maintenance of her son, but the suit was dropped.

One of the hotel man's pursuits was the breeding of thoroughbred horses. He owned the Patchen Wilkes stock farm in Kentucky and operated it until 1924, when he turned it over to "Weddy" Stokes.

CONTROL OF POISON GAS AND AIRPLANES URGED AT GENEVA

Belgian Delegate Pictures New York's Population Slain by Bombs.

"DON'T TALK; DISARM," HE URGES MEMBERS

Commission Finds Limit on Peace-Time Arms Alone Is Practical.

Geneva, May 19 (By A. P.).—Fire and gas bombs could slay or paralyze the entire population of New York, M. De Brouckere, of Belgium, asserted today in a declaration before the meeting of the disarmament commission, in which he portrayed the horrors of chemical warfare from the air. To him it was the most vital thing in disarmament to meet this problem immediately and frankly by the nations accepting supervision of all airplane and poison gas equipment.

"For, in the most cowardly and horrible form of warfare of all," he asserted, "hundreds of thousands of persons in the great cities of New York, Paris, London and Berlin would be driven to cellars and subways, and would be smothered to death."

"Don't talk so much about disarmament; just go ahead and do it," he said.

M. De Brouckere, who is a senator, pleaded with the world powers to follow the example of the Scandinavian lands and proceed immediately with the reduction of armaments without waiting for formal treaties.

"But," he went on, "nations which take this initiative must not be made to suffer for it when the time comes, if it ever does, to apportion the strength which the various nations may be permitted to possess."

Difficulties in the Way.
These assertions by a Belgian liberal are deemed significant, because the further the general disarmament discussion proceeds the more it is apparent that immense difficulties will render disarmament no easy task.

"Give us security, and we will lay down our arms," would aptly summarize the position of the various European countries as expounded at today's Geneva meeting. Evidence was forthcoming that for Europe at least disarmament is linked with a scheme of mutual assistance more effective than that provided by the covenant of the League of Nations, or the accords of Locarno.

The commission found the question as to what is the difference between offensive and defensive armaments a distressing matter. M. Paul-Boncour, France, thought there was a big difference, and gave it clearly to be understood that only offensive armaments could be limited. All fortifications, he averred, were defensive.

Viscount Cecil, Great Britain, thought that all armies were offensive, because they could immediately be made so.

Hugh S. Gibson, chairman of the American delegation, said the American view was that it was difficult, if not impossible, to affirm whether a given armament was defensive or offensive. He thought it hinged on the use or disposition of the armaments.

War Limit Impractical.
Only peace-time armaments can be limited by any conference of nations. This provisional agreement was reached at today's session, which decided that it was impracticable at the present moment to think of reducing the ultimate war strength of countries.

In ratifying this conclusion, however, the commission agreed to a significant reservation by M. Paul-Boncour, of France. This was to the effect that, when the subcommittee frames the exact formula, it must recognize that estimated reductions in peace-time armaments should take into account the military, economic and geographical factors upon which the war-time power depends and also the rapidly changing which assistance could be afforded to a state if attacked.

Gov. Smith Signs Bill FOR DRY REFERENDUM

Will Settle View of the State's People, He Says in Memorandum.

BEFORE VOTERS IN FALL

Albany, N. Y., May 19 (By A. P.).—Prohibition took its place among the issues of next fall's election campaign in this State with the announcement tonight by Gov. Smith that he had signed the Karle-Pheps bill providing for a referendum on the question of the general election.

Unless the drys seek by court action to prevent submission of the question, which now is considered unlikely, the people of the State at that time will be asked to express their opinion of the following query:

"Should the Congress of the United States modify the Federal act to enforce the eighteenth amendment so that the same shall not prohibit the manufacture, sale, transportation, importation or exportation of beverages which are not in fact intoxicating as determined in accordance with the law of the respective States?"

In his memorandum of approval, the governor based his action on the contention that "the referendum will settle, for the present at least, the attitude of the people of this State on this whole question, and if the will and the voice of the people mean anything in democratic government, any vehicle through which it can be ascertained is to my mind desirable."

WHITTEMORE HELPS PICK JURY AT NEW TRIAL FOR MURDER

Bandit, in Baltimore Court, Is Unmoved by Prosecutor's Attack.

CHARGED WITH SLAYING GUARD IN PRISON FLIGHT

Gazes at Wife and Father; Talks Freely With Counsel; Night Session Held.

Baltimore, May 19 (By A. P.).—Clad in his "buffalo clothes" Richard Reese Whittemore today for the second time in a month saw the tangled skein of his fate passing into the hands of 12 men behind a jury box rail. That Robert H. Holtman, Maryland penitentiary guard, was struck down when Whittemore escaped in February, 1925, he does not deny. That Holtman's death constitutes murder in the first degree the State is attempting to prove.

As at Buffalo, Whittemore was clad in his natty pin-striped suit, figured shirt with collar to match, blue and yellow striped tie and the patent leather shoes that trail along the rungs of his chair. And, as at Buffalo, where 12 men who could not agree on his guilt in connection with the slaying of a bank messenger during a $93,000 hold-up saved him from the electric chair, Whittemore today personally passed judgment on every tittle of his life as a juror's seat.

Jury Chosen in Five Hours.
Selection of the jury, speeded by a ruling of Criminal Court Judge Eugene O'Dunne, that counsel might not question vitriol concerning their personal affairs, was accomplished in five hours. Exception to the ruling, as an innovation in Baltimore courts, was made by Edgar Allan Poe, Whittemore's counsel, who intimated he would use it as ground for appeal should the State win its case. The defense exhausted its 20 peremptory challenges. The State used five.

Whittemore took the opening day of his trial calmly, sitting at the counsel table with his single attorney, supplied by the court. He conversed freely with Poe and sized up every prospective juror with speculative and level gaze. When the jury was complete, State's Attorney Herbert R. O'Connor, himself only two years older than the 27-year-old "Candy Kid"—leveled a finger at him and demanded that the jury certify his guilt, the prisoner did not flinch. His eyes wandered about the courtroom and now and then sought those of his wife, Margaret, and his father, John Rawlings Whittemore, seated a few feet to the rear.

First Degree Murder, He Says.
"The evidence shows that Whittemore assaulted Holtman with an iron bar and that Holtman died two days later of the wound," O'Connor told the jury. "According to the laws of this State, a man who kills another in an escape from prison or in the commission of a robbery is guilty of first-degree murder."

"I ask you gentlemen to bring in an unqualified verdict of murder in the first degree. You men do not have to say whether this man must hang. All you have to do is bring in the verdict that I ask. Then it will be up to the judge to decide the fate of the prisoner."

Whittemore was released to Baltimore for trial after the Buffalo jury failed to convict him, on advice from Maryland authorities that they had a "perfect hanging case" against him. He is under indictment in New York in connection with several jewelry robberies as the head of a "million-dollar crime trust."

Photographer Sentenced to Jail.
William Strum, a Baltimore News photographer, was sentenced to jail "until the determination of this case, to be further dealt with at that time," by Judge O'Dunne at tonight's session of the trial. Strum admitted taking a photograph of the courtroom after the judge had forbidden such an action.

Judge O'Dunne said steps would be taken "looking toward those higher up—those who told you to take this photograph." The picture in question was published in evening editions.

Students Resent Garb Order; Don Pajamas

Bethany, W. Va., May 19 (By A. P.).—A lecture on the proprieties of male attire, and an injunction "not to do it again," under penalty of suspension, greeted two Bethany College boys who appeared today before President Goodnight for a hearing on charges of appearing at the college "movie" in pajamas.

The students were Francis Vandoye, Newcastle, Pa., and James Long, Shelby, Ohio.

The boys told the president their unconventional attire was designed as a protest against Dr. Goodnight's orders that all male students should wear coats while attending the college theater, irrespective of temperature. Dr. Goodnight's order stands.

ILLINOIS JURY TO ASK ARMY RULE IN PRISONS

Inquiry at Joliet Is Said to Find Convicts Not Willing to Talk.

WARDEN'S APPEALS VAIN

Joliet, Ill., May 19 (By A. P.).—Military discipline for Illinois' two State penitentiaries, here and at Stateville, administered by a regular army officer above the rank of captain, will be recommended by a Will county grand jury investigating laxity of prison discipline.

The jury prepared tonight to hear the testimony of Chauncey H. Jenkins, head of the State department of public welfare, and Will Colvin, head of the State parole board, tomorrow morning. Warden John L. Whitman, supposedly in charge of both prisons, but officer at the "old prison," testified today before the Joliet grand jury.

Reports credited Whitman with testimony that Jenkins and Colvin had been supreme at both prisons, and that Whitman's trips to Springfield to lay before the governor the conditions at the prisons have not availed to remedy the situation.

State's Attorney Hjalmar Rehn, of Will county, also divulged that convicts from the prisons, summoned to testify before the grand jury, have been reticent about giving information. It was learned today that last Saturday several dozen convicts at the new prison got "pink slips" from the parole board, notifying them that their sentences had been set back for the time being, and that they must serve the full time without allowance for good behavior. This, said Rehn, has apparently made them cautious about testifying.

NEAR-RIOT IN PRISON CAUSED BY PIE INQUIRY

Cleveland Prisoners Seek to Complain of Food; Hurl Bowls About.

Cleveland, May 19 (By A. P.).—An outbreak which assumed near riot proportions created pandemonium on the third floor of the county jail here today. Benches and tables were broken, deputies were threatened, tin cups and metal soup bowls were thrown and more than a score of prisoners refused to return to their cells for several hours. The revolt was confined to the "bull pen" on that floor.

The disturbance grew out of a visit by the county grand jurors as part of their investigation of Sheriff Fred Kohler's conduct of the prison. It started when the prisoners were asked to have them to complain about their food.

The investigation was ordered by Common Pleas Judge Frank C. Phillips today after Louis Sagora (Louie the Pie Man) had disclosed that he sold pie in the jail, the proceeds going to Sheriff Kohler. He also told how cigarettes and other articles were sold at prices higher than those in retail stores.

OLD CONFEDERATES TO KEEP MARCHING, SAYS COMMANDER

Reunion Told There Can Be No Talk of Limping Army or Disbanding.

PROPOSALS TO ABANDON MEETINGS DISAPPEAR

Former Soldiers of South, Assembled in Birmingham, Are Enthusiastic.

Birmingham, Ala., May 19 (By A. P.).—Bivouacked on the soil of the State that cradled the Confederacy, one-fifth of the living remnant of the Southern army responded happily to "taps" tonight after all thought of disbanding the United Confederate Veterans had been dissipated.

The Confederacy represented by Lee's men will carry on. No official action was taken, or necessary, after Gen. W. B. Freeman, commander in chief, had sounded the tocsin of war on all such proposals in his annual address. The magnetic influence of the commander's sentiment so electrified the veterans that original proponents of the plan to disband could not be found to press their proposal.

No Limping Army.

The address of the commander was the high spot in the day's progress. With all the fire of his youthful, active military days, Gen. Freeman told his compatriots the Confederate army would never be disbanded—not so long as there were two men left able to get together. He declared: "No talk among us of a limping army of old men—no nonsense about the last remnant of the army who will not forget the meaning of his remark and yelled approval."

The commander continued: "We shall meet and march and sing—His voice was again drowned by the demonstration. When the noise had subsided, Gen. Freeman went on: "We shall meet and march and sing and tell our stories as long as two of us are left to travel, and when we turn over the reunions to sons who will be faithful and to daughters who will not forget we shall send one last, long rebel yell, defiantly down the years."

Gen. Freeman described the Southern soldiers as the most fortunate men who ever survived in old age the downfall of the country of their youth. The emancipation of the negro brought emancipation of the South, he declared.

Day Is Enthusiastic.

The first day's meeting of the veterans was enthusiastic from start to finish. Notable were the demonstrations for Gen. Freeman and Maj. Gen. Johnson Hagood, in command Fourth Corps area, U. S. D. Prolonged applause followed Gen. Hagood's statement.

"Although I carry the flag of Grant, I have the heart of the South within me."

Mrs. Allison Lawton, Charleston, representing the United Daughters of the Confederacy, related the accomplishments of that organization and was rewarded with rounds of applause. Mrs. Lawton explained the manner in which the daughters aided widows of veterans and their relatives of Confederate soldiers.

JOSEPH SIBLEY DIES; SERVED IN CONGRESS

Five Times Elected, Pennsylvania Member Quit Public Life in 1911.

Special to The Washington Post.
Franklin, Pa., May 19.—Suddenly succumbing to a sudden heart attack, Joseph C. Sibley, aged 76, former representative and one of the foremost residents of northwest Pennsylvania, died at his palatial home, River Ridge Farm, near here, today.

Mr. Sibley, who had served five terms in Congress, had been out of public life since 1911, had not been in good health for several years. In August, 1924, he sustained a slight stroke. Later he was threatened with blindness.

Mr. Sibley was born in Friendship, N. Y., in February, 1850, but since 1871 had lived in Franklin until his retirement from business fifteen years ago. He numbered "Uncle" Joe Cannon and many notable figures of the Capitol among his bosom friends, and correspondence with them or calls by them at his home here continued until his death. He was twice married, his first wife dying in 1911. His second wife, Ida Rew, survives. There are two children, Mrs. William E. Heathcote, of St. Petersburg, Fla., and Mrs. William McCalmont Wilson, of New York city.

COOKE RITES TOMORROW.

Former Vice Consul to Panama to Be Buried in Mount Olivet.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 10 o'clock for Henry Edward Cooke, 70 years old, who died yesterday at his home, 1614 Webster street northwest, in the Shrine of the Sacred Heart. Interment will be in Mount Olivet cemetery.

Mr. Cooke was born in Baltimore, but lived a great part of his life in Panama. He was American vice consul in Colon at one time, and later was general manager of the Boston Ice Co. for 13 years. He was married in Panama to Miss Eliza Rice, daughter of former Representative Francis Warren Rice, of Maine. She died several years ago. Surviving Mr. Cooke is his daughter, Mrs. Edward D. Talty, of this city.

MICHIGAN U. PARTY TO PUT EXPEDITION BASE IN GREENLAND

Washingtonian Will Sail in July With Group Laying Plan for 1927 Trip.

MACMILLAN TO TAKE AMATEUR RADIO MAN

Films Show No Ice on the Norge—Coolidge Sends Messages to Kings.

Ann Arbor, Mich., May 19 (By A. P.).—Dr. William D. Hobbs and six assistants will sail from Sydney, Cape Breton, July 10, for Greenland, to make preliminary surveys and observations for the University of Michigan-Danish government expedition of 1927. Dr. Hobbs announced today. The expedition had been planned for this summer, but was postponed recently.

The steamer Boethic, leased by the Canadian government to provide the expedition with a base in Baffin and Elmsay, will carry the party to Holstenborg, Greenland. Headquarters will be established on the widest strip of land between the Greenland ice cap and Davis strait.

Preliminary examination of the district will include setting up of temporary meteorological stations and balloons to chart wind currents. The registering balloons will carry a barograph, hydrometer and thermometer. The expedition also will experiment with short wave radio transmission sets.

One object of the expedition is to establish a meteorological station in the arctic circle. The party will be composed of Dr. Hobbs, as glaciologist and director; Lawrence M. Gould, of Ann Arbor, as assistant director, geologist and photographer; S. P. Ferguson, of University of Michigan, as bureau, Washington, D. C., meteorologist and balloonist; J. E. Church, of the University of Nevada, meteorologist; Ralph Belknap, of Ann Arbor, surveyor and geologist; and May 19 (By A. P.).—Ann Arbor, interpreter and instrument man and P. C. Ososnyon, of New York, radio operator and assistant meteorologist.

Chicago, May 19 (By Associated Press).—One amateur radio operator of the United States or Canada will be chosen from all who apply for the job as radio operator of the Macmillan-Rawson submarine expedition to the Arctic. Commander Donald B. Macmillan, whose expedition last year gave the world its first successful test of two-way radio transmission from the arctic circle, favors the amateur for the job. He has heard H. C. Forbes, of the Zenith Radio laboratories, Chicago, will choose the lucky amateur. The expedition sails June 19 from Wiscasset, Maine, to be gone four months.

Chicago, May 19 (By A. P.).—Although some reports have been that the dirigible Norge was forced to land at Teller, 75 miles northwest of Nome, because of a storm, fog and a heavy ice covering on her upper structure, pictures displayed here today of the landing showed no signs of a storm or fog, or ice on the airship. The ribs of the dirigible could be plainly seen through her cloth covering.

Felicitations by Coolidge.

President Coolidge has sent congratulatory messages to King Haakon of Norway and to King Vittorio Emanuele III of Italy, on the Norge flight.

To the King of Norway, he wrote: "Gratified at the news of the safe arrival of Capt. Amundsen and his associates in Alaska, I desire to offer to your majesty and people of Norway my congratulations on the success which attended the bold undertaking of this hardy and intrepid descendant of the Vikings. It is a matter of great satisfaction that one of my countrymen should have been associated with him in this daring and courageous exploit."

"With a feeling of satisfaction at the connection of one of my own countrymen with the exploit, I desire to offer your majesty my congratulations on the important participation in the Amundsen expedition to the north pole by an Italian airship, and the son of Italy who piloted it." President Coolidge wrote the King of Italy.

SMITHSON-HODGSON DANCERS GIVE REVUE

The Juvenile Spring Revue by pupils of the Smithsonian-Hodgson school of dancing was given at the Shubert Belasco theater last night. From the prologue to the final ensemble the talent of these well-trained children was recognized.

The outstanding features of the program were the recitation of the big show and a huge candy box with a human bow and ingredients of children, as peppermint sticks and bonbons. Margaret Levy, better known as Betty Levy, took the honors of the evening. Her work was most creditable. Lilla S. Hipsley, a vocal student of Mrs. Robert H. Dalgleish, made a pleasing appearance in several sketches. Prizes were awarded during the evening by the Rev. J. J. Qually to Beverly Tydings, Margaret Levy, Catherine Brozman, Marjory Pitt, Ann Pierce, Marie Herbert, Virginia Steves, Marie Wertheim, Doris Farran, Catherine Brozman, Beverly Tydings, Margaret Oulahan, Alice Gaff and Irma Hagob.

Capt. Carter Is Given Custody of Children

Special to The Washington Post.
Danville, Va., May 19.—Custody of the two small children of Capt. and Mrs. James C. Carter has been awarded to the father by Judge Turner Clement in the Pittsylvania court. The order is for temporary possession until the pending divorce action has been determined. Capt. Carter must pay his wife $75 per month.

2 MEN PREPARE TO DIE BY LETHAL GAS FUMES

Pass Time Writing Letters as Execution Chamber Is Being Made Ready.

LITTLE HOPE FOR PARDON

Reno, Nev., May 19 (By A. P.).—With less than two full days to live, Stanko Jukich and John H. Randolph, sentenced to die by lethal gas Friday at the Nevada State prison at Carson City, today began writing farewell letters to relatives and friends.

The condemned men, occupying adjoining cells in the death row last night asked for paper and pencils and except for the short bits of sleep they have taken, they have been writing almost constantly.

Work on the execution chamber in the center of the prison yard has been about completed. A heavy screen has been placed over the observation window so that none of the witnesses might accidentally break in and release the poisonous gas.

Two wooden chairs, in which the prisoners will be placed and strapped, have been installed, one a third larger than the other for Jukich, who is an unusually large man.

Behind the two chairs has been installed a heater, which will bring the temperature of the death chamber up to about 80 degrees, facilitating the trapping of the deadly gas as it enters the room through a small pipe. The gas tank and pump have been installed and it is estimated the execution will be over in 15 minutes.

APPROVAL OF REICHSSTAG GIVEN CHANCELLOR MARX

Reparation and Locarno Pacts to Guide His Foreign Policy, He Declares.

Berlin, May 19 (By A. P.).—Chancellor Marx, who has succeeded Dr. Hans Luther as head of the German ministry, today received approval of his policies from a tolerant reichstag.

It is likely, however, that Chancellor Marx's revamped cabinet will be forced to look alternatively to the socialists and the nationalists for support to insure its parliamentary existence.

In a brief official declaration, Chancellor Marx said that Germany's foreign policies would continue to be guided by the Locarno reparation agreements and the Locarno security pacts.

After a brief debate, singularly free of controversy, the reichstag voted the cabinet its approval by a liberal display of hands. Socialists supported the coalition parties in the vote, while nationalists abstained from voting.

The chancellor made only a fleeting reference to the flag issue, which caused the downfall of Chancellor Luther. Chancellor Marx said that the original order, directing the display of the German merchant flag, which contains monarchical colors, with the republican flag would be continued. He added that the new government intended to carry out President Von Hindenburg's suggestion that a new compromise flag be adopted.

Discussing the property claims of the former ruling houses in Germany, the chancellor said the government will submit a compromise bill which would be independent of the national referendum on confiscation of the former ruler's property, to be held on June 20.

Former College Star Confesses Robbery

New York, May 19 (By A. P.).—With his aged mother looking on and surrounded by a group of college friends, Alexander R. Hodges, former University of Kansas athlete, pleaded guilty to a second degree robbery charge today and was remanded for sentence June 18.

Hodges was charged with holding up a restaurant in Fifty-ninth street with a cigarette case shaped like a pistol and taking $240 from the till.

He was brought to trial for first degree robbery and the jury was completed yesterday. Today an adjournment was asked by the prisoner's counsel, and a conference was held at which it was decided to plead to the lesser charge.

Dr. William Caulk Dies at 81.

Special to The Washington Post.
Easton, Md., May 19.—Dr. William Caulk, 81 years old, one of the leading citizens of Talbot county, died at his home in St. Michaels yesterday. He was graduated from the University of Maryland, Baltimore, in 1866.

TELEPHONE COMPANY PLANS BIG STOCK ISSUE

Will Devote $154,000,000 to Fund New Construction and New Business.

SINCLAIR EARNINGS GROW

Boston, May 19 (By A. P.).—The directors of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. today voted to offer to stockholders for subscription at par one share of additional stock for each six shares held. The amount would be approximately $154,000,000 offered to about 370,000 stockholders. The offer is to shareholders of record June 8, and the average investment would be $400. Notices to the stockholders were mailed today.

The purpose of the new issue, it was announced, was to provide the Bell system with funds for new construction needed to care for additional business. Regular quarterly dividends of $2.25 a share were declared today.

New York, May 19 (By A. P.).—Stockholders of Sinclair consolidated Oil Corporation were informed by Harry F. Sinclair, chairman, at the annual meeting today that the company never had been in better condition and that net earnings for the first four months of 1926 had risen to $9,310,000, in comparison with $5,169,000 in the corresponding period of 1925.

The company's expansion in gasoline production was emphasized, more than 205,000,000 gallons having been made in the four months, in contrast to 133,000,000 gallons a year ago. Mr. Sinclair said the policy recently adopted by the directors to apply part of current earnings to redemption of outstanding bonds should hasten the time when stockholders would be amply repaid for their patience.

Directors of the Republic Iron & Steel Co. today declared the regular quarterly dividend of $1.75 on the preferred stock, payable July 1, to holders of record June 15.

FENNING INQUIRERS OPEN SESSIONS TODAY

Commissioner and Blanton to Appear Before House Judiciary Body.

The House judiciary committee subcommittee, named to investigate charges against District Commissioner Fenning, will begin its sessions today with Mr. Fenning and Representative Blanton, his principal accuser, expected before it. The opening session was postponed yesterday because of the absence of Representative Graham, of Pennsylvania, chairman.

Representative Blanton has not supplied the committee with the names of witnesses he wants called, and for which he was asked several days ago. Mr. Fenning is expected to appear before the committee at today's session accompanied by his counsel.

What course the committee will pursue is in doubt and will depend to a considerable degree on the results of the first meeting. It is said, impeachment is not expected, although the committee may recommend the removal of Fenning from office if he is found guilty of improprieties.

Police Asked to Look For 3 Missing Girls

Police were asked yesterday to look for three missing girls. Mildred Sliger, 16 years old, disappeared from her home at 2235 New York avenue northwest, shortly after it was quarantined because of the supposed illness from scarlet fever of her smaller brother, Clyde, 9 years old. Mildred is believed to have tired of the inactivity of staying at home and wanted to go to a movie, relatives say. Health department officials also are interested in her disappearance.

Anna Lasias, 14 years old, and Jeanet Wells, 14 years old, were reported missing since Tuesday night from their homes in Capitol Heights, Md. They are said to have been seen last entering an auto in which they left Capitol Heights, according to police.

ROCK CREEK PARK ESTATES

HE landed baron of the feudal ages was "monarch of all he surveyed." For leagues his domains extended; the mountains alone marked his borders. . . . A wonderful feeling of possession, and safety? Not at all! His very doorstep was not safe. At any moment a covetous rival or barbarous horde might sweep down upon him, and at point of pistol steal away his wealth. To protect himself—his Home—he built great castle walls; moat and drawbridge and portcullis barred his door; high in the ramparts paced sturdy archers, bows set and feathered shafts ready for fiercest fray.

Today, in Rock Creek Park Estates, it is the neighborly co-operation of Protective Restrictions which safeguards your Home. No moat or drawbridge need guard your privacy and possessions. Carefully, thoroughly, the owners have planned to preserve the natural beauty and residential exclusiveness of this great garden of homesites. With assurance you can build the Home you'll be proud to own—in Rock Creek Park Estates.

MELLON DECLARES PRIVATE INITIATIVE BASIS OF PROGRESS

Tells Electric Light Group
Big Business Helpful to Consumer.

UNIFORM AND CHEAP
OUTPUT HELD POSSIBLE

Says Capital and Labor Are Learning to Advance in Mutual Interest.

Private initiative is chiefly responsible for the rapid development of the widely-divided wealth of the United States, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon declared in an address broadcast last night from station WCAP to the annual convention of the National Electric Light association in Atlantic City.

It is not sound public policy to have government ownership of projects which can be handled by private capital, the Secretary said.

The problems of business must be considered sympathetically and it must be given opportunity to work out its solutions on a sound economic basis, Mr. Mellon declared, praising the administration of President Coolidge.

"President Coolidge has pursued a clear, consistent course and has made it plain that his administration will not interfere with legitimate business merely because it is big, but desires that business and industry, so far as possible, shall work out their own problems, provided they conform strictly to the law," he said.

No Place for Warfare.

"Both capital and labor are beginning to realize that they have a common interest in building up the great industries which are sources of wealth for all and that in America, with the opportunities which it offers and the constant transition from poverty to wealth, there is no place for class antagonisms or class warfare.

"Labor in this country, unlike labor in some of the European countries, long ago learned that no man can lift himself by his bootstraps; that an industry can not pay high wages, even under threat of strikes, unless that industry is prosperous, and that labor as well as capital must think in constructive terms and must act in harmony with, not in antagonism to, those great economic laws which work inexorably whether we like them or not.

"Because business is big it is not necessarily a menace. Large organizations not only stabilize production, but frequently furnish the consumer a standardized product at less cost than could be obtained in any other way. The justification for big business is that it serves the public more efficiently than many small businesses could do in that particular line. Otherwise, in a world of inexorable economic laws it would not long exist. A sound industrial policy must square with economic laws. And a consistent policy is necessary in order that capital, labor and the public may know what to expect.

Prosperity for All.

"It is not improbable that in time the spread of industrial development will eliminate the clash of economic interests along geographical lines, and that class antagonisms also will disappear as we find that our interests are served, not by fighting each other, but by working together to build up a prosperity in which every one can share.

"It is organized industry that has brought about the most unprecedented development in this country. It has made possible a uniform and, therefore, a cheaper production of commodities with distribution and consumption of goods over a wide area, so that in America we now consider as luxuries many things which were necessities to the preceding generation.

"Corporations are no longer owned by a small number of individuals. It has been estimated that the number of stockholders in this country exceeds 19,000,000.

Quantity Output Aids.

"We have found in this country that by investing heavily in labor-saving machinery we can increase the productive capacity per capita of labor and also eliminate waste, which is such an important factor in the attainment of national prosperity. In this way we can pay high wages and still reduce costs, so that the finished products are within reach of the average man.

"This, in turn, increases consumption and still further stimulates production. In the end we find that it pays to manufacture in quantity and to make a large volume of small profits.

"Our present prosperity is merely the outward and visible sign of one of the most significant economic movements taking place in the world today. It means that America has adjusted herself to the economic laws of the new industrial era, and that she has evolved an industrial organization which can maintain itself not only because it is efficient, but because it is bringing about a greater diffusion of prosperity among all classes."

Met at noon May 19 and recessed at 5:33 p. m. until today at 12 o'clock.

Result in Pennsylvania senatorial primary election precipitated a spirited debate among Senators Harrison, Missouri, and Reed, of Missouri, and Borah, Republicans.

Civil service committee amended House retirement bill to make payments more liberal and ordered it reported.

Before foreign relations committee, Representative Burton, of Ohio, defended two treaties negotiated last year at Geneva international "traffic in arms" convention.

While defending President Coolidge before tariff commission investigating committee, William S. Culbertson, minister to Rumania and former member of the commission, was confronted by letter written by him to Tariff Commissioner Costigan since assuming his diplomatic post, assailing President's policies.

BOYLES' CONFIRMATION DELAYED IN SENATE

Fight Over Reappointment of Alabama District Attorney to Be Resumed Today.

(By the Associated Press.)

The fight over reappointment of Aubrey Boyles as United States attorney for the Southern district of Alabama, will be resumed by the Senate this afternoon as the result of the failure to reach a decision yesterday after two and a half hours of consideration in executive session.

Opposition was expressed by Senators Underwood and Heflin (Democrats), Alabama, who declared that the reappointment was personally obnoxious to them, while Chairman Cummins (Republican), Iowa, of the judiciary committee, and Senator Erwin (Republican), Kentucky, defended that committee's approval of the renomination.

The Antislavery league has entered the controversy, Senator Heflin revealed, when he made public a letter he had received from Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel, urging support of Boyles on the ground that "Boyles has established a splendid record in the enforcement of the eighteenth amendment during the four years of his administration, and we sincerely hope that you can be present when the question is before the Senate and respectfully request that you give the matter of his confirmation your careful consideration."

RAIL RATE INCREASE IN WEST SUPPORTED

Live Stock Interests Will Argue Against Proposal at Hearing Today.

(By the Associated Press.)

The plea of Western railroads for an increase of 5 per cent in freight rate revenues was given unqualified support in the opening oral arguments yesterday in the Interstate Commerce Commission's inquiry into the freight rate structure of the territory west of the Mississippi river.

R. N. Van Doren, vice president of the Chicago & North Western, and Kenneth F. Burgess, general solicitor of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, took up most of the day in arguing the case for the railroads, while Charles E. Hughes, representing the receivers of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, supported their general argument for a raise in the rate level and discussed the Potter pooling of earnings plan.

Today the live stock interests, who have on file an application for a blanket reduction in live stock rates, will be heard in answer to the railroad's representatives' plea for a 20 per cent raise in these rates. The railroads, however, still have some time left for rebuttal.

RETIREMENT BILL LIKELY TO BE LOST IN CONFERENCE JAM

Senate Committee to Press for Measure With More Liberal Terms.

LEHLBACH DECLARES
HE WILL NOT YIELD

Smoot Fails to Have Administration Given to Comptroller.

Uncertainty surrounds the government employees' retirement bill as a result of the attitude taken by several members in the Senate, it developed yesterday.

The Senate civil service committee at a meeting in the morning decided to fight for its original bill, more liberal than the administration measure, which is now before the Senate. In all probability there is enough strength in the Senate to pass the original bill providing for maximum retirement annuities of $1,200 based on a salary of $1,600 annually.

The administration measure provides for maximum annuities of only $1,000 based upon a salary of $1,500.

Veto Is Feared.

The uncertainty concerning the final passage of the measure revolves around the possibility that it may be lost in conference. The House has passed the administration bill, and Representative Lehlbach, retirement sponsor in that body, gave notice that he would make no concessions in conference.

Although no one has given the President's attitude as to whether he would veto any other than the administration bill, the impression prevails that he would.

The administration bill, as passed by the House, was called up in the Senate yesterday and substituted for the original measure. This was done by Senator Stanford, of Oregon, who gave notice at the same time that his move was intended merely to facilitate matters and that he planned subsequently to offer the measure upon which the committee has agreed.

The attitude of the Senate toward the measure may be gauged by the action of Senator Robinson, minority leader, who Tuesday refused to give unanimous consent to the displacement of the original bill by that passed by the House. This action, coupled with the action of the civil service committee in deciding to press its bill, the $1,200 annuity measure, would seem to pre-empt its adoption by the Senate.

Debate Likely Today.

If this should develop and the Senate conferees should maintain a stubborn attitude in conference, the whole legislation would seem to be threatened at this session.

The subject was up in the Senate for a brief while yesterday, but was displaced by a unanimous agreement at 3 o'clock for an executive session. It will likely come up again today.

The brief consideration which it had was featured by the unsuccessful efforts of Senator Smoot, of Utah, to give some of the administrative details to the comptroller general instead of the civil service commission. He failed to have two amendments to this end adopted, Senator McKellar (Democrat), Tennessee, and Senator Couzens (Republican), Michigan, being active in the fight against them.

He said it had been the custom to allow enlisted men to carry the commissary key prior to his management and that this practice had been recognized officially. He maintained that he took quarterly inventories of stock according to regulations.

Celebration Today By Mecklenburgers

Charlotte, N. C., May 18 (By A. P.).—Shades of independent Mecklenburgers who 151 years ago proclaimed their individual liberty from the King of England, tomorrow will hold away about the square where the famous Mecklenburg declaration was signed.

PILSUDSKI SCORNS PLEA TO BECOME DICTATOR

Coup Is Blamed on Graft;
Posen Alone Opposing
New Government.

VOLUNTEERS YIELD GUNS

Warsaw, May 19 (By A. P.).—Marshal Pilsudski absolutely refuses to consider a dictatorship, despite urgings from different quarters. The attitude of the man who now controls Warsaw was communicated to the correspondents today by Col. Winlaw Delugoszewski, the marshal's principal aid and intimate friend.

"The national assembly will be summoned at Warsaw," he declared, "and elect a president of the republic, and its decisions will be respected."

Marshal Pilsudski, his spokesman continued, is determined to maintain the constitution, knowing that no single party can give Poland peace at home and strength against external dangers.

Outside of Posen, where difficulties persist, the country is reported to be calm and orderly. The regiments are maintaining perfect discipline and are returning to their stations. All arms served out to civilian volunteers have been returned. Several generals are still interned at Willanow, or their homes in Warsaw, pending the conclusion of an investigation as to what part they took in recent events. Some of them, such as Zagorski, are defendants in proceedings in civil courts.

Col. Delugoszewski affirmed that ## the coup d'etat was caused by the moral weakness and peculations of the preceding government, which outraged the conscience of the nation and army.

1,100 Ask to Enroll
In Naval Reserves

More than 1,100 responses from radio fans have been received by naval communications, Navy Department, requesting enrollment in the naval reserve, in reply to a letter sent out by the navy to 1,600 members of the American Radio Relay league. Two hundred replies were received the day after the letters were mailed.

By enlisting these men in the naval reserve, the navy is enabled to instruct these already skilled operators in naval procedure and organization and to conduct radio drills in which those who so desire can participate. Radio operators throughout the country are eligible to enroll in the reserve, provided they are 18 years old, American citizens and have no other service affiliations.

Report on De Valin Charges Forwarded

M. de Valin, commandant of the naval hospital at Norfolk, Va., has been forwarded from the office of the judge advocate of the navy to the bureau of navigation.

From there, it will go to the bureau of medicine and surgery, Capt. de Valin being a medical officer, and then back to the judge advocate's office for a final review to determine whether or not a court-martial will be held.

Do you know why BUICK 4-wheel brakes are mechanical

Buick 4-wheel brakes are built on the same sound mechanical principle as the two-wheel brakes you always have used.

The brake on the outside front wheel releases when turning a corner. The outside front wheel needs to turn in a larger circle to avoid skidding and Buick brakes let it turn.

And the operating parts of Buick brakes are steel—drop forgings—the most durable construction known to engineers.

For safety's sake, and for easier driving, pick Buick and Buick mechanical 4-wheel brakes.

VARE'S VICTORY.

The victory of Representative Vare over Senator Pepper and Gov. Pinchot in the Pennsylvania primary is not a surprise. It was a foregone conclusion when Gov. Pinchot refused to withdraw in favor of Senator Pepper that he would draw votes from Pepper without obtaining enough to be nominated himself.

The Coolidge administration went further in behalf of Senator Pepper than it has gone in behalf of any other candidate. The result gives little comfort to the administration. It reveals that voters are very independent, and perhaps are even resentful of suggestions from Washington. Pennsylvania Republicans at any rate chose their candidate to suit themselves.

Many considerations, personal and political, entered into the contest, but it is obvious that Mr. Vare's heavy vote outside of the "organization" strongholds was cast by opponents of the Volstead law. They had no other special reason for voting for him. They supported him because he represented the demand for modification of the prohibition law. If this issue had not been present, it is quite possible that voters outside of the big cities would have been opposed to the Philadelphia organization leader.

While the world court controversy was not discussed to any great extent in the Pennsylvania campaign, it is noted in passing that two senators who voted for the court protocol—Messrs. McKinley in Illinois and Pepper in Pennsylvania—have been defeated, while two senators who voted against the court protocol—Messrs. Watson and Robinson, of Indiana—have been renominated.

Much excited talk was heard in the Senate yesterday regarding the expenditure of money in the Pennsylvania primary campaign. A Senate investigation into primary expenditures in the States has been ordered. This is going rather far afield, inasmuch as Congress has nothing to do with the manner of choosing candidates for the Senate or House. The suppression of primary evils is the duty of the States. If the forthcoming Senate investigation should disclose that money was extravagantly or corruptly employed in primary campaigns, Congress could not enact a law to prevent the practice.

The announcement by Gov. Smith of New York in favor of a State referendum on the Federal prohibition law will probably be followed by referendum activities in other States. The Pennsylvania voters who voted for Vare may look to him to accomplish something for them in Congress, but little or nothing can be done to change conditions until and unless the States declare themselves on the question of modification. Pennsylvania may be in favor of modification, or it may not. The test is still to come.

George V. brews tea for himself in the morning. Why should a mere American husband growl about getting his own breakfast?

CALLING ON THE WOMEN.

Politicians, even practical politicians, who a few years ago decried the possibility of the ratification of the nineteenth amendment, as they had previously the idea that the United States would ever become a prohibition nation, appear now to realize that women are to have a great influence in the political future of America.

Mayor Dever, who is the executive head of that Illinois metropolis of Chicago, described by some New Yorkers as "the wickedest city in the world," has made an appeal to the women voters of his State to "buckle on the armor for an unyielding fight against rotten politics." It makes no difference whether Mayor Dever and other men in politics ever before realized the possibility open to the women of the country in helping to shape the destiny of the country; they do now. President Coolidge in addressing the Daughters of the American Revolution struck a popular note when he asked the women to take a greater interest in elections. His appeal has been echoed throughout the land. Said Mayor Dever, in addressing the annual convention of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs:

Woman with her franchise has proved a disappointment. She is not taking advantage of the privilege which is placed in her hands. She has failed to come up to expectations. Let me remind you that before you were given the franchise it was urged that woman suffrage would bring purity and cleanliness in public office. I am wondering if our hopes have been justified. I do not think they have. It is not chargeable to women any more than to men, and I want it understood I favor the franchise to women as their natural right. If we are to have good government we must tell the women that there is a special call for the innate equality of womanhood to rescue the city, the State and perhaps the nation. It is not time for empty compliments. If we can not now have clean government in Illinois and Chicago with organizations like these great women's clubs to help us, what can we do?

An appeal like this from the executive head of the second city of America—"the wicked-est city"—following that of President Coolidge, ought to meet with a response from the women voters in every State.

If Muscle Shoals can't cheapen fertilizer, at least it is prolific of cheap politics.

CUBA'S BIRTHDAY.

Twenty-four years ago today the republic of Cuba came into being. The country went through long agonies before it achieved its independence. It has suffered some since, but comparatively little; and its condition as a whole is incomparably better than it was before it became a republic. The present president, Mr. Machado, is an able and progressive executive, and his cabinet is composed of patriotic and efficient men who are working indefatigably for the upbuilding of Cuba. Public improvements are under way, including the construction of the national capital, the enlargement of Havana harbor, the building of roads, &c.

The reciprocity treaty with Cuba has helped to develop commerce between the United States and the island, but it is possible that a revision of the arrangement should be made, in view of the changes that have come since the treaty was ratified. The peculiarly close relations between the United States and Cuba warrant special treatment in tariff matters, and it would be well for both countries if this question should be carefully reviewed at this time.

Cuba represents the embodiment of an American ideal. It stands free and independent, working laboriously but courageously for the fulfillment of its hopes. It is not hampered in its efforts by the United States, but on the contrary its aspirations have the warm sympathy of Americans. Self-government, a most difficult task for any people, is undergoing the test in Cuba, and is proving its worth in the preservation of liberty and justice. Every year of experience increases the ability of the Cuban people to devise and execute their own national policies without interference from any other nation.

The United States was under judgment when it liberated Cuba. The world hardly believed that this nation would release Cuba from Spain and permit it to become independent. South Americans who feared American aggression looked narrowly upon the proceedings of 1898-1902. But the United States was faithful to its pledge, and will remain so. Its treatment of Cuba is the answer to any assertion that this country seeks expansion at the expense of other peoples.

Congratulations to Cuba and the Cuban people on their independence day! May the flag of Cuba always remain in the sky, over a free and happy nation!

America has many genuine saviors. Their hands are working, not their mouths.

INVESTIGATING PRIMARIES.

The Senate has adopted a resolution authorizing the Vice President to appoint a special committee to investigate the expenditure of money in primaries in behalf of congressional candidates. Regardless of the possible results of such an investigation, and the possibility of revelations of extravagant expenditures of money by the friends and backers of candidates, it should be recalled that the United States Supreme Court, in the Newberry case, decided:

1—Section 8 of the corrupt practices act of June 25, 1910, amended August 19, 1911, which undertakes to limit the amount of money which any candidate for the office of representative or senator shall give, cause to be given or expended in primary elections, is unconstitutional.

2—The power of Congress over elections of senators or representatives is confined to time, place and manner.

3—An indefinite, undefined power in Congress over the elections of senators and representatives, not derived from Article I, section 4, of the Constitution, can not be inferred.

4—Elections within the Constitution are confined to senators chosen by the legislatures and representatives by voters in districts.

5—The seventeenth amendment of the Constitution (election of senators by the people) did not give a new meaning to the word "election."

6—Primaries are in no sense elections for office.

7—The seventeenth amendment does not modify the source of congressional power to "regulate the times, places and manner of holding elections."

8—The power to control party primaries for designating candidates for the Senate is not within the power "to regulate the manner of holding elections."

9—Authority to control party primaries or conventions was not bestowed on Congress by the grant of power to regulate the manner of holding elections.

The court decided that primary elections are not "elections" within the meaning of the Constitution; therefore Congress has no power over them. But the States have ample power, says the court in the Newberry case, to suppress whatever evils may be incident to primaries.

The attorney for Senator Newberry in this notable case was Charles E. Hughes.

The question arises, what jurisdiction or authority has the United States Senate over the primaries in Pennsylvania or elsewhere? Congress can not make a law restricting the spending of money in primary campaigns.

Moderns talk of "poverty," but they don't wear four sacks for underwear.

CONFUSION IN THE HOUSE.

Debate in the House over the amended Haugen farm relief bill has resulted in a state of confusion seldom seen in either house of Congress. Party lines are obliterated and principles have surrendered to politics. Sections of the country are arrayed against each other by anxious and excited representatives, who believe they see a dark and damnable plot on the part of one section and one group to ruin another section and group.

Democrats from the South who have always fought protection in any form are fighting Democrats from the States of the middle West who are willing to surrender their traditional opposition to protection because they think they see an opportunity to make effective a protection policy which, it is alleged, fails to protect the farmers.

Republicans seem to be divided on the ground that the tariff rates on basic farm commodities are ineffective because, forsooth, prices of those commodities have declined. Some Republicans appear to be willing to surrender what they have accepted as a fundamental party belief, in order to obtain votes in the disturbed sections.

Some members of the House believe the equalization fee to be paid by the growers of basic commodities is nothing but a self-imposed tax in order to get back a subsidy or bonus from the government. It is likened to lifting one's self by the boot straps. Still others believe that the scheme will not stand the test of the courts.

If the party leaders have any influence left it should be exercised at once to put a quietus on the Haugen monstrosity. The enactment of this legislation would be a reproach to both parties.

Vanderbilt's fortune couldn't survive the newspaper business, but we're betting on Ford to stick another year.

THE TRADE COMMISSION.

In a recent address in Chicago, Federal Trade Commissioner Humphrey pointed out the reasons for the changes in the policies of the commission. He said they were in the interests of the public and honest business.

The rule of stipulation said Mr. Humphrey, is beneficial to all concerned, and has expedited the work of the commission, at the same time protecting the public from many wrongs. This plan of stipulation, added the commissioner, saves money and is in harmony with the spirit of our jurisprudence, in that it holds out every inducement to settle cases by compromise without litigation.

This is sound sense. Many cases may be settled by stipulation where conviction may be impossible. The best attorneys are those who advise settlement rather than litigation. The same rule applies to the proceedings of the Federal Trade Commission, an establishment dealing with charges and violations of the law, but usually susceptible of peaceful and amicable adjustment and settlement without the publicity of prosecution, which only too often proves ruinous to men and corporations who are either innocent or willing to conform to the law when they know the law.

It isn't sporting to run when somebody shoots at you. It may be some amateur who really needs target practice.

FASTING FOR HEALTH.

When Dr. Tanner, an American physician, about 40 years ago announced that he would begin a period of 40 days' fasting in order to prove that man could live without food, there were many persons who doubted that he would survive. But he did, and at the end of his long fast, the first thing he took into his stomach was a piece of rich, ripe watermelon. Dr. Tanner lived for years after he had rather startled the medical world with his experiment.

Recently the question has been agitated whether or not occasional fasting is not a good thing for humans. Experiments, more or less sensational, have been made by persons in Europe, perhaps for pecuniary purposes, but the general subject of fasting as an aid to health has undeniably attracted the attention of dietitians, and it is therefore interesting to note that recent experiments undertaken by physicians in the Chicago university have disclosed that fasting practiced in a scientific manner will not only aid health but will actually cure disease.

The whole thought of conservative medicine, it has been said, is to feed in order to keep up the strength during illness, notwithstanding the evident fact that illness and normal digestion do not go together.

There are said to be no inconsiderable number of physicians who think nothing of fasting for two or three weeks. A Chicago doctor asserts that this practice of abstaining from food for certain periods has undoubtedly led to the cure of numerous diseases, such as cirrhosis of the liver, Bright's disease and nephritic conditions. At any rate, the discussion among physicians not only in this country but in Europe as to the probable or possible advantages that may come from carefully planned fasting is beginning to be noticed, and future experiments doubtless will be watched by the general public with keen interest.

Popularity in politics as well as in baseball is evanescent. It wasn't so many years ago that John K. Tener, of Pennsylvania, was a great pitcher in the national baseball league. On the strength of his baseball prominence and popularity he was later nominated, through the good offices of Boies Penrose, for governor of Pennsylvania, and was elected. In Tuesday's primary he was again a candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination. There were four entrants, and Tener was so far behind that nobody knew he ran.

A Riff warrior made 70 miles afoot in one night. Did it alone, too, with no Spanish troops in front to set the pace.

Another need is a suggestive device that will begin to play a harp under the hood when the car hits 50.

The Worst Story I Heard Today—By Will Rogers

The Worst Joke I heard today was told to me by Jack Norworth, the comedian and actor. Everybody knows Jack. He is just about one of the cleverest men we have on our stage. I remember him back in the old days when he did a monologue and sang a song called, "Ain't He the Wise Old Owl." He can sing a song as no one in the world can. Jack is my favorite caruso. I met him yesterday, and he had his two boys with him. Great kids! Bright and up on their toes, just like the father. They are crazy about roping, and if you could have seen me on the street in front of the Laubs Club trying to show them how to do the rope to keep it from twisting, and using a cane for an imaginary rope! I bet you they go home and get it. Jack is a regular actor now. He has graduated away from us Guys who do a Monologue. He still has a few up his sleeve, and he pulled the following, just to show me he could still hold a spot in one.

A seedy old actor was finally engaged to play a part and the Manager told him, "You have to handle large sums of money in the play. Thousands and thousands of dollars, and I want you to handle it as though you were accustomed to it, do you understand?"

"Yes Sir," replied the actor. "Can you fix me up with about $2.50 to rehearse with?" (Copyright, 1926, the McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Helium in Medicine.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: A hurry call from the U. S. S. Falcon for ten cylinders of helium to be used in the relief of an obstinate case of callosus disease contracted by a diver working on the raising of the submarine S-51, arouses the imagination to the consideration of the future extensive use of this precious gas in the treatment not only of callosus disease, but of all those persistent and evasive diseases caused by an excess of nitrogen in the blood. Will helium some day be as available as oxygen or hydrogen? Will we have something which may be as generally and freely used for rheumatic neuritis and cardiac diseases as, for instance, insulin has been used in the past few years in the relief and cure of diabetes, a disease caused by an excess of sugar in the blood? Any one who has had any experience with multiple neuritis or even any of the milder forms of nitrogen poisoning would be glad to hear that we can confidently expect relief for those suffering from these painful and dangerous diseases in the near future.

How soon and at what price helium gas will be easily available for medical use depends in very large measure on the rate of production of helium. Our country is blessed with an ample supply of helium gas. The United States owns a very fine and expensive helium production plant at Fort Worth, Tex., the only one of its kind in the world, as this is the only country in the world having any appreciable amount of helium. Up to the present the only customers of this production plant have been the army and navy. The supply is governed by the demand, and the price is in inverse ratio to the supply. Curtailing the activities of the army and navy in the development of airships means curtailing the demand for the production of helium and consequent deterioration of the production plant, the storage and purification plants. The development of helium production is being held in hand with the development of airships, and it is to be hoped by every intelligent human being that their development will not be hindered by any near-sighted desire to avoid the expenditure of a few thousand dollars. Helium is a blessing which we have no right to neglect. It must be developed and conserved for the use of mankind.

The New Generation.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: We have just had another discussion on that popular puzzle, the "new generation"—as to whether it is as red as it is painted. But it occurs to me that with this, as with other subjects, there is too much tendency to generalize; you can not put people in a lump sum, even young people. There is more than one kind of new generation. The new girls do not all smoke and swear and swagger and otherwise make exhibitions of themselves. Once I heard a dictum regarding fashion, that there are two kinds—for ladies and for the other sort. So this same distinction applies to the new generation. We see a number of young girls

Sea-Minds and Sewer-Minds

By GLENN FRANK

I HAVE just had a happy day, riding through the hills of Virginia. There was healing in these hills to a somewhat tired spirit that had just emerged from a month of bored meetings and budget-making. But the joy of the day was due to my having picked up at the beginning of the journey copies of the new popular edition of the first and second series of Havelock Ellis's "Impressions and Comments."

These little volumes are crowded with short entries, as in a diary, of the reactions of Mr. Ellis's mind as it has come into contact alike with the lovely and the tragic aspects of life.

In one of these volumes Mr. Ellis is telling of a man who had justified some crude and vulgar expression by saying that "to the pure all things are pure."

Commenting on the man, Mr. Ellis indulges in this suggestive bit of philosophy:

"To the pure all things are pure. It may be the truth. But I sometimes wish St. Paul had stated that hazardous truth in another form and declared that to the impure all things are impure."

"The sea receives much filth into its broad bosom, and beneath the vital action of sun and wind and pervading antiseptic salinity, it is all transformed into use and beauty and the invigorating breath of ozone."

"But some narrow and inclosed minds are not so much like the sea as like the sewer."

And Mr. Ellis goes on to say his say about the weak and vulgar minds that forever meet a criticism of their vulgarity by saying that "to the pure all things are pure." That is a virtue, he insists, which belongs not to minds that are narrow and inclosed like the sewer, but only to those minds which are like the sea.

In this illuminating entry in Mr. Ellis's diary of his mind, there may be a key to the vexed problem of protecting the minds of youth from dangerous and debasing things and theories.

Readers of this column know that I have an unbounded faith in the safety of freedom; more dangers are reared by repression than are found in freedom.

It is, of course, clear that as society grows more complicated the problem of its control grows more complicated; we move about and are mashed together in a way that our ancestors did not know; in our hurried and crowded time, ideas as well as disease may more easily become epidemic.

In such a time, a few prohibitions and censorships and guardianships may be necessary.

We are not great enough to risk anarchy. Some one, defining anarchy as a policy of fair play between gentlemen, said that the only difficulty is that so few of us are gentlemen and so few of us play fair. But after we have indulged in the minimum of prohibitions and censorships and guardianships that our imperfect society and our imperfect selves seem to require, the fact remains that the ultimate guaranty of wholesome minds lies in our developing in ourselves and in our children sea minds rather than sewer minds.

who are ladies and look and act the part, and they are not slow, at that. A certain class may be trying to put over on us the manners and fashions of the underworld, with the apparent idea that it is more attractive to men—but this brings us to the fact that there are different kinds of men. And the lady-like girls are holding their own successfully with the right kind of men.

The favorite alibi for the underworld line of manners and costume is that people who formerly dressed and acted with more refinement were really no better, but only more sly; that it is all a matter of surface. However, this would seem only a device on the part of the lax to get by, a device that does not decide the discriminating.

Another phase of the swear and swagger set of the "new" generation which has often occurred to me is that they are not so "new," nor so "young." On the contrary, they seem to be extremely old—not in years, but in disposition. They are so blasé and so hard and suspicious and disillusioned, there is nothing young about them but their years; the poor things appear to have come into the world old and passe, with sagging shoulders and an old, hard look on their faces. And they are slow, oh, so slow; not in physical movements, perhaps, but their minds are so monotonous, not elastic with the quality of youth.

So, when discussing the "new" generation, let us first consider just what we are talking about and which kind of "new generation."

Changing New York.

New York Herald Tribune: Manhattan at present suffers from a curiously unbalanced growth. It is destined to be the greatest commercial and business center in the world. But a very large part of its area is covered with low-grade dwelling houses and another large part of it is given over to manufacturing. If the manufacturing could be transplanted to the suburbs the borough would become a much more satisfactory business center and be adapted more adequately to residence purposes. It would gain in cleanliness, beauty and dignity and be able to rival other world capitals in these respects. There is discernible now a movement to reclaim the neglected East Side for residence and to lessen traffic congestion by creating new residence areas closer to the office zones.

Manhattan is, in fact, still in its formative state.

BEHAVIOR IS HELD GAUGE OF INFANT'S MENTAL PROGRESS

Yale Professor Tells Health Congress Brain Growth Easily Measured.

NEW YORK MAN CALLS MILK PUBLIC UTILITY

Immunization of Babies Would End Diphtheria, Holds Dr. W. H. Park.

Atlantic City, May 19 (By A. P.). New measurements of the child's mental growth were presented, a nation-wide campaign to do away with the diseases which scourge childhood was proposed, and a new program for safeguarding every child's milk supply was suggested to the 6,000 health workers attending the scattered sessions of the third day of the American Health Congress here.

It has become possible to measure an infant's mental growth, as expressed in his behavior, in much the same way that his physical growth can be measured, according to Dr. Arnold Gesell, professor of child hygiene, Yale university.

"The infant has a psyche which is already well in the making at the time of birth," said Dr. Gesell. "His personality is a growing multitude of patterns of behavior, of eating, sleeping, playing, obeying, of liking, disliking, fearing and avoiding."

Growth Is Charted. "At the Yale psychoclinic we have made studies of several hundreds of normal infants, which show that the curve of mental growth tends to follow along lawful lines."

"Although we have not found two babies exactly alike, neither have we found two normal babies of the same age absolutely unlike."

"By means of appropriate tests and behavior forms, we may record and appraise the behavior status of the growing child and to gauge his mental age to the month."

Besides wholesome habits of eating and sleeping, the characteristics of the infant's mental health include "good nature, self control, sympathy, cooperativeness and even in very young children a sense of humor," said Dr. Gesell.

He predicted that the future will bring close supervision over the parent-child relation which will equalize the earlier developmental opportunities of all children, as the public schools now equalize the opportunities later.

"Beating, slapping, shouting, scolding, threats and bribes," from parents he classed as "the pickles and sausages and unclean milk" of the child's mental health program. Governmental regulation of milk distribution was urged by Dr. Lewis I. Harris, commissioner of health of New York city.

"Milk is as much of a public utility as water is," he said.

"Loose milk, also known as dip milk, must be banned from every city in the country."

Suggests City Milk Plants. "Denouncing milk conditions in the United States, and particularly in New York, he suggested 'municipally owned pasteurization plants,' with the milk supply of the country and of cities controlled by a committee with the powers of a czar. They would eliminate duplication of expenses of distribution, and would see that a cost-accounting system was used."

"If physicians would immunize all children when they reach the age of 9 months, it would mean the end of diphtheria," said Dr. William H. Park, director of laboratories, health department, New York city. "In New York city 1,000,000 injections have been given without accident."

The scarlet fever serum appears to immunize 85 per cent of susceptible persons for several years, said Dr. John A. Kolmer, of the Pennsylvania University school of medicine, and is known to be an efficacious means of treatment of cases, "greatly reducing the incidence of complications."

BRIAND DRAFTS PLAN TO RESTORE FRANC

Briand cabinet, has resulted in strong pressure within the government in favor of prompt radical measures, including use of the $89,400,000 available from the Morgan loan.

Intervention by speculators, who are convinced that the franc is now selling at far below its real value, caused a sharp reaction in the exchange market this morning, and the franc fluctuated as a result. Strong buying of francs when the Bourse opened sent the franc from its low position at 125 to 134, and up to 134.30 within an hour. The movement, however, could not be sustained in the absence of official support, and continued demands for dollars and pounds by French importers sent the franc down again to 135.15 to the dollar and 170.80 to the pound.

The socialist group of the chamber of deputies, headed by Leon Blum, today notified Charles Danelou, undersecretary of state to Premier Briand, that they will ask the premier tomorrow to reconvene parliament earlier than May 27, its scheduled resumption. The exchange situation is given as the principal reason for their request.

SENATE VOTES INVESTIGATION INTO CAMPAIGN EXPENSES

have changed, in my judgment," he continued.

Senator Bingham sought to defend the regulars, and asked the senator from Missouri if he thought it good legislation to rush a bill through before senators had time to read it. After referring to Mr. Bingham as "the tall sycamore from Connecticut," Senator Reed said: "Let me ask the senator if he considers it good legislation to try to throttle an investigation of whether charges made in the newspapers are true, when these charges concern the very life of the nation?"

Reed Sees Welching. The 7 1/2-minute conversion was again referred to by Mr. Reed as "a remarkable exhibition of intellectual agility" before Senator Bingham stated that he had not discussed the bill because it was not like the senator from Missouri and able to talk about something of which he knew nothing.

"After following the senator's course this body," snapped Senator Reed, "I had not concluded that he was so afflicted. Twenty-one of you, and I'm going to drop into the vernacular, welched in 7 1/2 minutes."

Senators Harrell and Stanfield both disclaimed any intention of "welching," the latter explaining that he was not against the bill, but was against displacing the civil service.

"I'm delighted with this conversion," Senator Reed added, adding that he hoped there would be no delay in getting the necessary appropriation for carrying on the work of the special committee.

Text of Resolution.

The Reed resolution is as follows:

"Resolved, That a special committee of five, consisting of three members selected from the majority political party, of whom one shall be a Progressive Republican, and of two members from the minority political party, shall be forthwith appointed by the President of the Senate, and said committee is hereby authorized and instructed immediately to investigate what moneys, emoluments, rewards or things of value, including agreements or understandings of support for appointment or election to office have been promised, contributed, expended, or made by any person, firm, corporation, or committee, organization, or association, to influence the nomination of any person as the candidate of any political party or organization for membership in the United States Senate, or to contribute to or promote the election of any person as a member of the United States Senate at the general election to be held in November, 1926. Said committee shall report the names of the persons, firms, or corporations, or committees, organizations, or associations that have made or shall hereafter make such promises, subscriptions, advancements, or payments and the amount by them severally contributed or promised as aforesaid, including the method of expenditure of said sums or the method of performance of said agreement, together with all facts in relation thereto.

"Said committee is hereby empowered to sit and act at such time or times and at such place or places as it may deem necessary; to require by subpoena or otherwise the attendance of witnesses, the production of books, papers and documents, and to do such other acts as may be necessary in the matter of said investigation.

"The chairman of the committee or any member thereof may administer oaths to witnesses. Every person who, having been summoned as a witness by authority of said committee willfully makes default, or who, having appeared, refuses to answer any question pertinent to the investigation heretofore authorized, shall be held to the penalties provided by section 102 of the revised statutes of the United States.

"Said committee shall promptly report to the Senate the facts by it ascertained."

All Funds Investigated.

Under the sweeping terms of this resolution, practically every form of campaign contribution, direct or indirect, can be investigated. Activities of the Antislavery league will be given special attention if Senator Reed is made a member of the committee, according to the consensus. The campaigns of the following senators will come automatically under the special committee's scrutiny: Bingham, Cameron, Cummins, Curtis, Dale, Ernst, Gooding, Harrell, Jones, of Washington, Keyes, McMaster, Moses, Norbeck, Oddie, Pine, Reed, of Pennsylvania; Robinson of Indiana; Sackett, Schall, Smoot, Stanfield, Wadsworth, Warren, Watson, Weller, Williams, Willis—34.

The vote on passage of the resolution was as follows: For passage: Republicans—Borah, Butler, Cameron, Couzens, Cummins, Curtis, Dale, Frazier, Gooding, Harrell, Howell, Johnson, Jones, of Washington, La Follette, Lenroot, McMaster, McNary, Norris, Nye, Pine, Stanfield, Weller, Williams, Willis—24.

LABOR CHIEFS DEMAND RITCHIE BE BOYCOTTED

Salisbury Resolutions Say Governor Fosters Prison Contract Work System.

BROENING IS NOMINATED

Special to The Washington Post.

Salisbury, Md., May 19.—Gov. Ritchie was criticized on three counts in resolutions introduced today at the convention of the Maryland State and District of Columbia Federation of Labor. In each resolution the federation is requested to put into effect what will amount to a political boycott against Mr. Ritchie. All of the resolutions were introduced by Edward Bieretz, business agent of the Allied Building Trades council, Baltimore.

The resolutions express condemnation of the Maryland executive over the Conowingo power project, censure for continuation of prison contract labor and scoring the governor for his stand against the national child labor amendment.

It is asked that support be withheld from the governor for "any office to which he may aspire."

The resolutions express condemnation of the Maryland executive over the Conowingo power project, censure for continuation of prison contract labor and scoring the governor for his stand against the national child labor amendment.

Reed Expresses Regret.

"The senator forgets," Mr. Reed said, in replying to Senator Harrison, "that there are 9,000,000 voters in Pennsylvania who vote, whereas in the senator's State three-fourths of the population is disfranchised and it doubtless isn't necessary to spend so much money."

Senator Harrison replied that he thought perhaps some voters in his State had been drafted into Pennsylvania to swell the vote, and the laughter in the galleries was divided evenly between the two senators.

Mr. Reed then expressed his deep regret over the Pennsylvania outcome. Mr. Pepper, he said, had been sacrificed to the deep resentment which the people of Pennsylvania have against the prohibition law. The senator from Pennsylvania then said there should be allowed to express itself in a referendum on the wet and dry issue. This aroused Senator Borah, who contended that popular judgment on this or any other issue should not sway a senator's conviction. But Senator Reed said the mature judgment of his State "would be better than mine," adding "I do believe the nearest we can come to wisdom is the composite judgment of the people. The prohibition question has become so acute that we're entitled to know what the people think of it."

This statement by Senator Reed aroused immediate interest of those senators favoring a modification of the Volstead act. With Pennsylvania lined up with New York, New Jersey, Maryland, several New England States and other States in favor of modification of Volsteadism, the modificationists believe they have made a distinct gain. As a result of the Pennsylvania primaries there probably will be no prohibition legislation at this session, it is said. The modificationists now feel they have enough strength to balk any attempt to pass bills tightening up prohibition enforcement.

Roll Calls.

The roll call on taking up Senator Reed's motion to investigate expenditures and on passing the resolution were as follows:

For the Reed motion: Republicans—Borah, Couzens, Frazier, Howell, Johnson, La Follette, Lenroot, McNary, Norris, Nye, Total—10.

HOUSE LEADERS DISCUSS OUTLOOK WITH COOLIDGE

French Debt Complication Is Only Barrier to Early Adjournment.

PROSPECTS FOR ACTION

Individual representatives, including Speaker Nicholas Longworth and Majority Leader John Q. Tilson, yesterday talked with President Coolidge regarding the congressional program. While adjournment was touched upon in a general way, dates were not mentioned. It was apparent, as a result of the visits, that, as previously has been pointed out, the only barrier now existing to speedy conclusion of legislative business is the French debt complication.

The Speaker and Majority Leader both agreed that the House will dispose of the French debt prior to May 27, the date fixed for the assembling of the French parliament. They said they did not look for more than a two-day debate on the floor after the hearings close. The latter ought not to take more than a week or so at the outside, they explained. Whatever delay is to come, in the opinion of the House leaders, will be in the Senate.

The position of the President in insisting that action shall be taken before Congress adjourns if possible is that this country is desirous of doing all that it can in behalf of France, especially because her finances are in such bad shape. That is the reason why the President wants the agreement ratified now, but he has let it be known that he feels France should approve the plan officially before the United States goes on record. Should the French senate reject, or by June 2 it be indicated that there will be serious delay in arriving at an agreement, then the United States will be justified in passing over the matter until next December and Congress can adjourn.

Discussing the House program, the Speaker said that the only major matters remaining outside of the French debt are farm relief, coal legislation, and rivers and harbors improvements. There are, of course, certain miscellaneous measures which may or may not be disposed of, it was explained.

Death of William H. Johnson.

Martinsburg, W. Va., May 19.—William H. Johnson, 85 years old, retired Baltimore & Ohio railroad engineer and well-known resident of Shepherdstown, near here, died today. He is survived by his wife and six children.

Cumberland, Lonaconing and Frederick were nominated as the next convention cities.

chairman of the committee, and spent much time pacing back and forth in the rear of the room.

"My point is that Commissioner Costigan should have given his own testimony and allowed me to make mine," Mr. Culbertson continued. "All this has gone on without any communication with me. I am willing to help clear up the situation on the commission, but I don't see why it cannot be done without developing it into a political fight."

The witness denied point blank Senator Norris' charges that the President had attempted to influence him in the sugar case and had appointed him Minister to Roumania to get him out of the way.

President's Attitude.

"The President never so much as intimated that I change my decision in the sugar case, and I never did change it," he declared. "He never suggested to me any delay of the sugar report, which would have made it impossible for him to come to a decision on the record before the November election of 1924. He never tried to urge me unduly, nor was he at any time a party to the efforts which were made by disappointed applicants and lobbyists to frighten me into a more tractable position on the tariff commission."

His relations with the President, Mr. Culbertson said, continued just as friendly after the sugar case as they were before and he was glad to accept under him the post of minister to Roumania.

Under cross-examination, the witness said that while on the commission he was called back to Washington from Williamstown, Mass., where he was lecturing, by a telegram from Commissioner Costigan. When he reached Washington, he said, he was taken to the late Senator La Follette, then a candidate for the Presidency, and was requested by him to furnish a written statement of the situation on the commission, for use in the campaign. He declared he declined to do so, and in the election voted for President Coolidge.

The present Senator La Follette drew from Culbertson an admission that he had given his father a written statement before he came out for the Presidency, and subsequently sought its return and obtained it. Chairman Robinson brought out that some of Culbertson's papers were marked confidential and some were not. The witness said that was an accident, as he intended all of them to be confidential.

MORE PHOTOS HERE THAN IN BALTIMORE. SURVEY DISCLOSES

Maryland Metropolitan Has 81,400 Machines, as Against Washington's 83,831.

CORDON TRAFFIC CHECK
USED TO GET ESTIMATE

Every 5.9 Persons in District
Has Car, According to Figures.

There are more automobiles in Washington than in Baltimore, notwithstanding the fact that the Maryland city exceeds the Capital City's population by nearly half.

This was disclosed yesterday when Maj. W. E. R. Covell, assistant to Engineer Commissioner Bell, compared the report of a local transportation survey just completed in Baltimore, with that of the McClelland and Junker survey made last year.

Population bases adopted for statistical studies in the two surveys were 790,600 for Baltimore and 498,000 for Washington. Here the investigation disclosed that 85 per cent of the population lives within a three-mile radius of the downtown congested district. The percentage is 79 in Baltimore.

Cordon checks of traffic entering the central congested areas were made in both cities. Of the vehicles entering downtown Baltimore, 86.1 per cent were pleasure cars, 3.1 per cent taxicabs, 0.6 per cent motorbuses, 24.4 per cent commercial motor vehicles and 5.8 per cent horse-drawn vehicles.

More Pleasure Cars.

In Washington the percentages were nearly identical for taxicabs and buses, but were higher for pleasure cars, 78.3 per cent, and lower for trucks and horse-drawn vehicles, 15.8 and 1.4, respectively.

Maj. Covell said this was due to the fact that Baltimore is more of an industrial city than Washington. The number of cars tabulated in the "origin and destination" checks, to show how far they go to and from work, showed that 77.5 per cent use the street cars getting into the business district in Baltimore, as compared with 63.1 per cent here. Only 3.5 ride to work in automobiles in Baltimore, as against 20.6 per cent ride in autos in this city. Those who walk to and from work constitute 22.8 per cent here and only 10.5 per cent there.

Registered automobiles numbered 81,400 (estimated) in Baltimore, 83,831 here. Reduced to a per capita basis, this shows that there is one automobile for each 5.9 persons in Washington, and one for each 9.7 persons in Baltimore.

No Increase in Year.

Traffic checks made by attaches of the office of Director of Traffic M. O. Eldridge and made public yesterday indicate that vehicular traffic has not increased during the last year on Fifteenth, Sixteenth and Seventeenth streets northwest. Instead, it has lessened materially on Seventeenth street.

Comparisons of the two years show that during the 15 hours from 8 a. m. to 11 p. m. there were 5,178 cars on the average this year in Fifteenth street, 11,220 in Sixteenth street and 4,454 in Seventeenth street, as against 5,114 on Fifteenth street, 11,927 on Sixteenth street and 6,113 on Seventeenth street last year.

The figures for 1925 were all taken in 1926. The 1926 figures, however, are daily averages taken from April 30 to May 15.

Same Status Restored.

Phillip W. Wiley, who was discharged from the government hospital for the insane on May 8, as cured, was restored to his status as a sane person by an order signed yesterday by Chief Justice McCoy in lunacy court, at the request of Earl G. Jonscher, counsel for Wiley.

Wiley, Mrs. Georgiana B. Wiley, 149 R street northwest, wife of Wiley, has been his committee.

Final Divorce Awarded.

Mrs. Edith M. Stevens, public stenographer, was awarded a final decree for absolute divorce yesterday by Chief Justice McCoy in equity court against Albert H. Stevens, real estate broker. She is to receive $75 a month alimony. Mrs. Stevens was married November 14, 1907. Attorney Guy Mason appeared for her.

ARMY ASKS PAPERS.

Old Periodicals Will Aid Work of Capital Salvationalists.

Twenty-five pounds of old newspapers will enable the officials of the Salvation Army social service to give an unfortunate man a good meal. Discarded articles of clothing and cast-aside pieces of furniture will allow them to provide employment and furnish comfortable quarters to elderly men at the industrial home.

Brigadier Miles Pickering, head of the institution, is appealing for contributions of this character. Old magazines and rare books will be sold at bargain rates this week at the army barracks, 121 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Among the books to be placed on sale are many valuable works of science and education.

HOUDINI EXPRESSES REGRET TO COOLIDGE

Leaves Letter Deploring Yarn About "Seances Held at White House."

Harry Houdini, professional magician, yesterday left at the executive offices a letter addressed to President Coolidge in which he expressed regret that President Coolidge's name had been dragged into the argument of the alleged fortune telling in the District.

The magician was brought to the office by his press representative but he made no direct attempt to see either the President or his secretary, leaving his letter with an attendant at the door.

In his letter Houdini stated he wanted to leave the affidavit of his investigator, Miss Rose Mackenberg, setting forth her experiences with Mrs. J. B. Coates. The facts in this affidavit already have been publicly denied by Mrs. Coates. Houdini also said:

"Believe me, it was no desire of mine to embarrass the President, but I have spent a large portion of my time and fortune in this fight against fraudulent mediums and I am accustomed to accept the facts without garnishment, no matter how unpleasant they may be."

Officials at the White House dismissed the entire matter without comment because it is well-known that seances have never been favorably considered there. Certain leading magicians have, on occasion, performed their tricks at the White House, as have well-known musicians and other entertainers, who have been invited to give private performances for the President and his guests.

FENCE TO BE BUILT FOR GUARD AGAINST ROWDIES AT DUNBAR

Step Is Taken as Result of Baseball Bat Assault on Instructor.

SCHOOL AUDITORIUMS TO GET FIRE CURTAINS

Discrimination Against Colored Teachers in Promotions Charged.

As the result of the recent episode at Dunbar High school when a teacher was struck on the head with a baseball bat and knocked unconscious, an expenditure of $1,500 to build a fence around the grounds of the school in order to prevent interference by outsiders was voted by the board of education at a meeting yesterday in Franklin school.

When the matter was brought to the attention of the board it was mentioned that pupils of the school have been persistently menaced by outsiders. It was suggested that police protection should be given them, and Dr. Frank W. Ballou, superintendent of schools, said that it might be well to give police authority to some members of the janitorial staff.

J. Hayden Johnson, in the motion to appropriate money to build an adequate fence, declared that protection was needed for the teachers as well as pupils. No action was taken on the suggestion to appeal to the police department.

Orders Steel Curtains.

Following a recent conference with the commissioners, when it was stated by them that school auditoriums for purposes of fire protection come within the category of theaters, the board adopted a motion by H. Barrett Learned, chairman of the committee on buildings, grounds and equipment, to appropriate $21,525 for installing a steel curtain in Central High school, and $20,250 for one in Dunbar High school, in order to bring these schools within the requirements of the building regulations for theaters. The curtains will be installed as soon as possible, it is said.

In the same conference auto mechanic shops were classed as public garages. The existence of a shop within a building takes it out of the garage class, and will compel the draining of all motors of gasoline. Regulations are being formulated by the board for these shops which will remedy the present situation.

Appeals for the reduction of home study on the ground that it is a menace to the eyes and health of children, made by the Mayor Park Citizens association and the Barry Farms Citizens association. A committee of the board is considering the matter.

Tension arose when the Rev. F. L. A. Bennet declared it to be the general feeling that colored teachers have been discriminated against in the matter of examinations which would promote them to a higher salary rating. He referred to the case of seven teachers in the Shaw and Randall schools who, it is said, were not notified of examinations which would have placed them in a higher salary group despite the fact of their eligibility. Dr. Ballou replied that it was his policy not to argue with a bad member. The situation, it was explained, is complicated, and the only fault, an inadvertence of the teachers not being notified. Decision was deferred.

Personnel Changes.

The following changes in personnel were ordered:

Resignations—J. T. Oliver, teacher, class 1-A, manual training; M. D. Boots, teacher, class 1-A, now on leave of absence; F. A. Martin, engineer-janitor, health school; J. T. Tapscott, jr., janitor, Taylor school; M. J. Davis, clerk, class 4, office of assistant superintendent of elementary schools.

Termination—J. C. Malvan, temporary appointment, class 2-A, Randall Junior High school.

Retirement—Carrie Stewart, teacher, class 1-A, Edmund school.

Transfers—Ivah Richard, teacher, class 1-A, Dent-Brent school, from grade 2 to supplementary teacher; Isabel Weyrich, teacher, class 1-A, Cranch-Tyler school, from grade 2 to grade 3.

Appointments—C. M. Hays, teacher, permanent, class 1-A, Dent-Brent school; G. W. Hodgkins, teacher, permanent, class 1-A, Central High school; J. A. Tweedale, janitor, probationary, Taylor school; W. W. Stockton, engineer-janitor, probationary, health school; I. C. Malvan, teacher, probationary, class 2-A, Randall Junior High school.

War Veterans' Auto Outing to Be Sunday

The first automobile outing of the American War Veterans club will take place Sunday. Members of the club and their friends will motor to Frederick, Md., leaving Thirteenth street and New York avenue northwest at 11 o'clock. Dinner will be served at the Francis Scott Key hotel, and they will return to Washington before sundown.

A feature of the outing will be the initiation of David C. Winebrenner 3d, secretary of state of Maryland, into the club. The visitors will go to the grave of Francis Scott Key and place a wreath on his monument.

Wagon Master Wounds Escaping Prisoner

While being taken to the Eighth precinct police station yesterday John Evans, alias Jack Rags, colored, 25 years old, of 940 R street northwest, police say, jumped from the patrol wagon and attempted to escape. The wagon master called after him to stop and then fired two bullets, one of which took effect in Evans' right shoulder.

Evans escaped despite his wound, but was later rearrested and taken to Emergency hospital for treatment.

Bay Ridge Estates has three miles of Bay frontage—every inch of which is fine, crystal sand beach, providing residents with the best salt water bathing to be had in the entire area. And, in addition to this Bay frontage, there are four miles more of waterfront skirting the beautiful shores of Lake Ogleton and Black Walnut Lake. The former is a perfect land-locked harbor, large enough to provide anchorage for every yacht in this vicinity, and is connected with the bay by a deep channel or pass. Lake Ogleton—like the Chesapeake itself—has a gently sloping beach which provides safe bathing for even the smallest child.

No other suburb in this section offers a finer opportunity for the man who is fond of outdoor life. Fishing, Boating, Bathing, Yachting, Tennis and other outdoor activities are immediately available.

Bay Ridge was selected nearly half a century ago by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad as the most ideal spot on the Chesapeake for a recreational center and for nearly two generations this great railroad conducted excursions from Washington and Baltimore to their chosen "garden of gardens." Here one may enjoy tennis, bathing, sailing, canoeing, fishing and automobilizing, and equestrians may also enjoy galloping over miles of the most alluring bridle paths in the country.

A direct and perfectly paved road leads to Baltimore 30 miles away, with Washington practically equidistant, while fast electric service is available to either point via the Baltimore, Washington and Annapolis Railroad.

A Wealth of Beauty— You'll Love to Live at Bay Ridge Estates

Nature exceeded herself when she formed Chesapeake Bay and the surrounding country, providing at the same time a great natural observatory from which to view her handiwork. This observatory is at Tolly Point, Bay Ridge Estates, and nowhere in the middle Atlantic States can be found a more inspiring stretch of scenery than this view from Tolly Point.

Many other views of either coast of the Chesapeake are beautiful and inspiring, but from this famous point—the highest coastal elevation in Maryland—the vista is simply indescribable.

Here one may stand overlooking miles of country that for natural beauty and historic interest is not surpassed—if indeed it is equalled—the world over.

Many famous places make up this panorama. Here at the mouth of the Severn lies Kent Island, the first and only principality in American history, where William Claiborne unfurled his flag and established a trading post, being finally ejected by the armed forces of Lord Baltimore in the first naval conflict in Maryland waters.

To the north—"just around the corner"—is the United States Naval Academy and Annapolis, where every inch of ground is hallowed, where many houses of pre-revolution days are still standing, where almost every street corner and tree bear some historical significance. Here are to be seen the original mansions of Charles Carroll of Carrollton, William Pinkney and William Sands, who visited George Washington times without number. Here, too, stands the old State House and the Senate Chamber in which our first President gave up his army commission and where the treaty with Great Britain was ratified. Here one may visit the Church of St. Anne, with its old tombstones, some of which date back to 1669; and the quaint taverns and coffee houses and the narrow streets opening on the bay, so richly reminiscent of a historic past—a city steeped in the hallowed associations bound up with America's first patriots.

SOUTHERN LINE FIFTH IN OPERATING REVENUE

First Quarter Shows Pennsylvania and New York Central Leading.

LOCAL TRADING IS LIGHT

By F. W. PATTERSON.

The Southern Railway system stands fifth in gross operating revenues and third in net railway operating income for the first quarter of the year. The continued high level of general business activity throughout the south can be measured by the record volume of traffic moved during the first quarter. Southern Railway System serves the entire territory east of the Mississippi and south of the Potomac and Ohio rivers. Its traffic volume and earning power may be taken as a fairly accurate measure of general business conditions in the territory it serves.

In the monthly reports which the railroads furnish the Interstate Commerce Commission, the item "gross operating revenues" represents the total received from railway operations including freight, passenger, mail, express and miscellaneous. For the first three months of 1926 the following large systems headed the list in total operating revenues:

Road	First Quarter 1926	First Quarter 1925
Pennsylvania	$164,203,000	$155,649,000
New York Central	$125,870,000	$88,128,000
Southern Railway	$112,142,000	$66,788,000
Baltimore & Ohio	$6,789,000	$3,981,000
Southern Ry. System	$5,312,000	$3,941,000
Atchafalaya	$3,178,000	$3,564,000

For the first quarter of 1926 Pennsylvania and New York Central stand first and second in net railway operating income. Southern Railway System ranks third, followed by Atchafalaya, Norfolk & Western, Southern Railway and Baltimore & Ohio. The comparative net operating income of these roads is as follows:

Road	1st Quarter 1926	1st Quarter 1925
Pennsylvania	$17,000,000	$13,000,000
New York Central	$12,800,000	$12,350,000
Sou. Ry. System	$10,981,000	$10,981,000
Atchafalaya	$10,000,000	$9,000,000
Norfolk & Western	$8,300,000	$6,200,000
Southern Railway	$8,300,000	$7,200,000
Baltimore & Ohio	$8,177,000	$6,340,000

Southern Railway System thus stands next to the two leading Eastern trunk lines in the amount of revenue saved after expenses, taxes and rents, and available for fixed charges, dividends and surplus.

The position of the Southern in the front rank of all the great transportation systems of the country means much to the South in ensuring excellent transportation and adequate facilities for the future.

Wall Street Gossip.

New York, May 19 (By A. P.).—Unseasonable weather affected April earnings of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad which are expected to be less than the gross revenues of $8,350,764 for April last year and net operating income of $2,172,845. Gross for the first four months of 1926, however, will show material improvement over any preceding corresponding period. The company is handling a record-breaking volume of road-building material, great strides in road work being made in North Carolina, where $15,000,000 will be spent this year on highways. South Carolina and Florida also have authorized large road-building expenditures.

British Servel Corporation, recently organized subsidiary of the Servel Corporation, has four times as many orders on its books as it is able to fill. Paul Plunkett, a director of the American company, said on his return from a business trip abroad, "England is ripe for an enormous electrification development. From what I understand it would be very easy for England to raise a bond issue of $50,000,000 in the interest of public utilities."

Operating profit of Penn Seaboard Steel for the first quarter of 1926 rose to $74,021 compared with $24,290 in the first quarter of 1925.

Iron Trade Review says further recessions in some departments developing concurrently with substantial improvements in others, have left the market trend in iron and steel mixed and indefinite. Production in view of the present irregularities is surprisingly well maintained, reflecting a large volume of tonnage still moving into consumers' hands.

R. C. Gasser has been elected a director of Mexican Seaboard Oil Co. to succeed T. J. Broderick.

Golden Center Mines, Inc., has made a contract with Williams Lead Co. for the operation and development of its lead and silver properties in central Idaho. This follows the recent acquisition of the Candie Creek placer gold properties in Alaska.

Gulf Refining Co. will advance tank wagon gasoline 1 cent a gallon in New Jersey tomorrow.

Confirming cable dispatches from Prague regarding the establishment of a $20,000,000 credit for Czechoslovakia, Charles E. Mitchell, president of the National City Bank, today explained that the advance was being made jointly to the state and to the Czech National Bank. It will take the form of a revolving credit for one year and is not renewable. The National City Co. last year floated a $25,000,000 loan for Czechoslovakia to assist in funding the national debt, and portions of the new credit may be applied from time to time to a further reduction of short-term indebtedness.

Miss D. White Wins Cup Match

Washington Country Club Player Is Second Also.

Local Stars Compete in Baltimore's Tourney Today.

By HENRY LITCHFIELD WEST.
MISS DOROTHY WHITE, of the Washington Golf and Country club, who led the field in the first day of medal play for the Evening Star cup on the Indian Spring course, came through victoriously yesterday in the final round of eighteen holes. Her total card for the 36 holes was 89—42—192, which, with her 14 handicap, gave her a net 168 for the two rounds. Her aggregate was also the lowest gross score, leading by 3 strokes the card of Miss Tidmarsh, of Chevy Chase.

The runnerup prize was won by another member of the Washington club, Miss Phyllis Keeler, who is the champion of her club. Miss Keeler's gross score was 202 and her handicap of 32 for the 36 holes gave her a net 170. The low gross prize on Tuesday was won by Miss White with a card of 89, but yesterday Miss Tidmarsh, with a total of 88, won the trophy offered for the low gross on the second day.

Miss White, who is the daughter of Dr. William C. White, has not participated in many tournaments.

Barnes Off to Defend British Open Honors

New York, May 19 (By A. P.).—Long Jim Barnes, the lanky American professional, who came from behind to overtake Macdonald Smith and win the British open golf championship last year, sailed today on the Mauretania for England, where he will defend his crown. Mrs. Barnes and their daughter accompanied the champion.

Barnes will be joined later by Walter Hagen and a team of American professionals, which will play a match against stars of Great Britain early in June.

Dark Horses Victors in Tennis

Charest Is Eliminated in Wardman Park Play.

A. O. White Is Put Out by Austrian Who Loses in Turn.

By JUNO KINERK.
THERE are several players of a distinctly "dark horse" variety who now stand more excellent chances than ever of completely upsetting the predictions before the tennis tournament at the Wardman Park is concluded, for these mysterious and dusky persons surely had their inning yesterday when no less than four unexpected defeats came the way of favorites.

The most surprising of all conquests was that of Gwynne King over Clarence M. Charest, while right on its heels was the defeat of A. O. White by O. D. Hertelendy, of the Hungarian legation. Hertelendy, in turn, however, was forced to bow to this writer's choice of the "dark horses," young Milton Yates. The final to this wholesale defeat of favored players happened in the last match of the day when young Bob Considine walloped J. A. Purinton, who was seeded number four in the draw.

The King-Charest match was one of the best of the day, and the youngster's victory was in no wise fluky. After taking the veteran in the first set, 7-5, King was outpointed in the next, 6-4. In the third and final set, however, King solved his opponent's weakness at his backhand and won in convincing fashion, 6-1.

in the Press Box with Baxter

SOMEBODY is always giving a shot of oxygen to the prize-ring industry hereabouts. Tonight Dr. Heinie Miller will endeavor to demonstrate that there is life in the industry yet at Kenilworth, which has been in it exactly like a Phoenix from the ashes, at least from the ruins.

Dr. Miller was ever an optimist about the prize-ring industry. "To me," he said in a recent communication, "boxing is as clean as any sport on the calendar and my aim will be to conduct Kenilworth so that the press and public will share that opinion."

Associated with Dr. Miller are a number of other optimists. No one will deny that Jack Kennedy is inclined to look on the bright side of things, nor that Muggsy Morris is anything but an optimist. So optimistic in fact is Mr. Morris that he sleeps with a clean dress shirt under his pillow in case the call should be from the prize-ring industry for an announcer, instead of from the railroad company from which Mr. Morris gets his regular bread and butter money.

The role of optimists does not end here. This column does not know of a more optimistic timekeeper than Royce Hough. Mr. Hough is such an optimist in this little matter of keeping time that he would rather be at the ringside with one hand on his chronometer and the other on the bell than sell an automobile.

SURELY Charlie Short is optimistic. He has been a referee in the prize-ring industry for a great many years, qualification enough for membership in the Brotherhood of Optimistic Optimists, which consists for the most part of referees and umpires, including the third base variety.

Most optimistic of all are the young members of the prize-ring industry who will provide the modified assault and battery which the cash customer will pay to see. There are eight of these gladiators, any one of whom will tell you this morning that there is not the slightest doubt where victory will rest in the face of all this optimism far be it from this column to take a pessimistic view, before the chortening.

The one satisfactory thing proven by recent events is that the Philadelphia Athletics can not win all their games.

Amateur Athletic Union arrangements appear to have been set at a height that Charlie Hoff can not clear.

THIRD base umpiring is no longer what it used to be, despite the fact that "Crying" George Moriarty still finds time to be gallant to the ladies who have almost been hit by foul balls, and ukelele correspondence schools have reported a terrific slump in business.

The cash customer at the ball games may have noticed that the third base umpire of late has been skulking about the diamond, dodging batted balls and having a miserable time generally. The life of leisurely laziness apparently is a thing of the past, and instead of working only two days in three the umpires now get their labor in daily doses.

This column understands that there is no truth in the report that the change in third base umpiring was ordered after Ban Johnson had heard some of the tunes which the umpires had been taught on the ukelele. Ban Johnson has no sense of humor, and would probably have dismissed

Walker Risks Welter Title Tonight

Latzo Ready for Ten-Round Match at Scranton, Pa.

Youthful Fighters Are Under Limit; Bout to Decision.

SCRANTON, Pa., May 19 (By A. P.).—Pete Latzo, a quiet, sturdy youth of 23, who has risen from mine boy to pugilistic prominence as a front-rank welterweight contender, makes his second bid for the world's title tomorrow night against Mickey Walker, smiling rugged king of the 147-pound division.

Three years ago Latzo gave Walker, newly crowned champion, a fierce battle for twelve rounds in Newark, N. J., losing the newspaper decision. He has gone up the scale rapidly since, wading through welterweight ranks in impressive fashion.

Tomorrow night, in their ten-round match to a judges' decision at the Col. Watres armory, Latzo will carry into battle the hopes of the entire Wyoming valley, heart of the anthracite region.

WALKER, holder of the title now for four years, a veteran in spite of his 24 years, is expected to enter the ring a favorite, but experts tonight predicted he would have a bitter battle to keep his crown intact.

Both declared themselves tonight fit and confident of victory. Latzo, scaling slightly under 145, went through a brisk final workout, while Walker, already under the welterweight limit, scaling 146, confined himself to light exercising at a gymnasium for an hour after his arrival this afternoon from his home in Elizabeth, N. J. They weigh in officially tomorrow afternoon.

Latzo has met four defeats outside of that by Walker in 1923, but in each instance has been victorious in return fights against Willie Harmon, Billy Wells, Frankie Schoell and Morrie Schlaifer. Schlaifer handled Latzo his only knockout defeat, in 1925.

Tomorrow's fight is something of a family affair, too, for Latzo is one of eight children, including four boys who took up ring careers. An older brother, Steve, was knocked out by Walker shortly before the welter champion defeated Pete. The latter is determined to square accounts tomorrow.

Four preliminaries will precede the main bout, which is slated to start about 8 p. m. Eastern standard time. The semi-finals, rounds, brings together George Courtney, Oklahoma middleweight, and Johnny Haystack, of Birmingham, N. Y.

Carpentier on Edge For Huffman Bout

New York, May 19 (By A. P.).—A picturesque figure in pugilism for almost two decades, Georges Carpentier, of France, today shadowboxed through the last workout of a long training grind which he hopes will put him back on the light-heavyweight throne.

Although the popular orchid man has seen only 32 summers flit past, his appearance in the Madison Square Garden ring Friday night for a ten-round battle with Eddie Huffman, of California, will mark the opening of his nineteenth season as a boxer.

COBB BROUGHT MEMORIES OF YORE TO FANS WHO SAW HIM PERFORM here yesterday. In the top photograph he is seen executing a typical Cobb play on a steal of second base in the seventh inning. After seemingly being a victim of Harris, who took the throw from Ruel, Cobb hesitated momentarily only to slide cleanly away from the Washington manager in safety. Below, Johns, Detroit pitcher, is a victim of one of Bush's wild pitches and is seen on the ground after being hit in the back.

Ruth's Two Homers Defeat Browns, 6-2

New York, May 19 (By A. P.).—Four home runs, including two by Babe Ruth, figured in the Yankees' 6 to 2 victory over the St. Louis Browns in the opener of a series today. It was the eighth straight triumph for the New Yorkers.

Ruth's thirteenth home run of the season off Zachary with Koenig and Gehrig on base in the third inning settled the game. He annexed his fourteenth off Ballou in the eighth. Meusel and Combs were the other home-run hitters. The Yankees have now made 35 homers in 31 games.

Bush Is Wild From Start Of Game

Cobb Displays Fancy Work on Bases and With Bat.

Johns, Rookie Hurler, Gives 6 Hits and Is Always Master.

By N. W. BAXTER.
Sports Editor The Post.
WASHINGTON seems to have struck one of the rough spots that present themselves every now and then along Pennant Avenue. Yesterday afternoon the Nationals dropped the third straight game of the week, to Detroit, 6 to 0, and slid a few points below Cleveland into third place, while the flying Yankees crawled ahead another notch.

Worse yet, Joe Bush was the victim of yesterday's disaster, the third time in a row that one of Washington's big four has failed to stop an assault by the enemy. Poor pitching and weak hitting tell the story of Washington's downfall. The Tigers through the medium of Lefty Johns and a thirteen hit attack centered on Bush, Morrell and Ogden won unattended.

"Bullet Joe" was most certainly not himself or else he has a private grievance against the Detroit team which he was settling yesterday afternoon. In the first two innings he hit three of the Tigers, two of the overcast came in the second inning in conjunction with a base on balls and one hit, which explains the three runs that Detroit made in that inning.

THE attack in the fifth was more premeditated and vicious. Three hits, two of them doubles, gave the Tigers two more runs and seemed to convince Stanley Harris that he could expect nothing more from Bush for the afternoon.

By that time even Cobb was smiling. At the end of the contest when the records showed that he made three hits in four times at

HIGHER LEVELS SCORED BY NEARLY ALL BONDS

Some Selling Continues in French, Belgian and Polish Issues.

OTHER ALIEN LIENS FIRM

New York, May 19 (By A. P.).—A steady flow of investment funds into the bond market today established prices of all classes of issues at substantially higher levels. The continued unsettlement of stock trading diverted money from that quarter to fixed revenue securities, with standard rail, public utility and industrial liens proving equally popular.

The vigorous recovery of the continental exchanges gave a firm under-tone to the foreign bond list, although scattered sales of French, Belgian and Polish obligations still came into the market. Polish 8s and 6s reflected distrust with the political situation, easing off to the lowest levels of the year.

Plans were said to be nearing completion for a public offering on Friday of the $30,000,000 Brazilian loan, probably in the form of 30-year 6 1/2 per cent bonds, priced around 90. The outstanding 7 per cent issue was quoted today at 94. The new bonds probably will be secured by a charge on customs and other tax revenues.

One of the conspicuous features of trading in the domestic list was the spirited bidding for general petroleum 5s, following the announcement that the company's obligations would be assumed by the Standard Oil Co. of New York under the merger now being consummated. The bonds crossed 101 to a new top price. Skelly 6 1/2s also were strong but Sinclair liens made a disappointing report to the favorable report of the corporation's operations made at the annual meeting today.

A measure of the demand for investment bonds was supplied by the advances of 1 to 2 points in such issues as Southern Railway 6 1/2s, Peoples Gas 5s, Federal Light & Traction 5s, Louisville & Nashville 7s, Niagara, Lockport & Ontario 5s and North American Edison 6s.

CURB MARKET REVIEW.

New York, May 19 (By the Associated Press).—Stock prices continued to drift downward today, curbing active issues were small and unimportant. A few weak spots but failed to bring out any appreciable amount of long buying. The market was speculative interest of the day centered on the statement to the effect that the common stock of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. at $100 per share, which sold between 5 1/2 and 5 3/4, closing at the top.

Oil shares yielded slightly despite the report of the Sinclair Co. showing earnings for the first four months to be 30 per cent above those of a year ago and the announcement of a new additional gasoline price increase. The report of a restraining effect on crude oil production last week in Texas and a restraining effect on trading was admitted to trading, selling.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, May 19 (By the Associated Press).—Pronounced weakness in the market for new crop deliveries of wheat developed today. The approach of harvest of domestic winter wheat was a factor in the decline. May wheat quotations on the decline to 1 1/4c gain, with corn down and provisions up.

One of the factors which tended to bring about a setback in the value of the July wheat contract was an entry of wheat from Kansas City that the Oklahoma wheat crop was estimated to yield to present prospects, according to 25,000,000 bushels compared with 20,000,000 bushels a year ago. Slowness of export demand at the seaboard and no, likewise, did wheat come to Chicago and sold wheat to cargo is on the way here from Duluth.

Increased selling pressure on the end of the day that disclosed near a new low for the market. A new low was without any apparent support. It was also showed little disposition to let go. Subsequent to the close, however, was a moderate recovery in wheat prices, which at first characterized by a sharp decline in wheat and corn and oats today.

Both the feed grains and wheat within a fraction of lowest figures on the crop. Moisture was added to the grain. Moisture was added to the grain. Moisture was added to the grain.

Mrs. Janie P. Gatlin, widow of Thomas H. Gatlin, will resume her testimony this morning before Justice Hoehling and a jury in circuit court in the case in which her daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Gatlin Pritchard, is attempting to break the Gatlin will.

Gatlin died last December. He left an estate valued at $12,000. He was formerly chief engineer of construction for the Southern Railway. In his will he cut off his daughter entirely and inserted a paragraph bequeathing to his widow her regular payments of $75 a month alimony. The bulk of the estate was given to Mrs. Sarah Harvey, of Germantown, Md., described by Mrs. Gatlin as the "musical friend" of Gatlin. Mrs. Pritchard charges coercion and undue influence in the execution of the will.

MOVIE MAGNATE FETED BY DISTRICT EXHIBITORS

Louis A. Mayer Tells Hosts of Film for Benefit of Firemen.

CENSORSHIP IS ASSAILED

Louis A. Mayer, president of the Goldwyn-Metro-Mayer Co., producers of motion pictures, was tendered a testimonial luncheon at the Mayflower hotel yesterday afternoon by local exhibitors.

Secretary of the Navy Wilbur, Maj. Gen. Lejeune, commandant of the United States marine corps; Representative of the Congress of Massachusetts; Williams, of Mississippi, and Kahn, of California, were among the speakers.

Introduced by Toastmaster Charles Linkins, owner of the Strand Theater, Mr. Mayer sketched the history of the motion picture industry, cited its problems, and told of its plans for the future. He decried censorship, asserting: "The people, always to be trusted, may be depended upon to know what is good for them and what they want."

At present, the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer company is at work on a picture called "The Fire Brigade," in which the actual life of fire-fighters the country over is depicted. One-fourth the profits from this picture will be given the firemen's national organization.

Secretary of Navy Wilbur dwelt at length upon the good done by "The Big Parade," a picturization of Lawrence Stallings' story of the great war. Gen. Lejeune told of the value of familiarizing the country with various phases of life and cited the new picture now in the making, "Tell It to the Marines," as an example of what may be accomplished by the movies. Mr. Mayer was praised as one of the outstanding figures in the motion picture industry and given a present by local admirers.

Previous to the luncheon representatives of firemen's organizations in this and nearby cities met at the Willard and escorted Mr. Mayer to the Mayflower; a real old-fashioned firemen's parade for the chief, Mr. Mayer, being a member of the Los Angeles fire department.

COURT AUTHORIZES SHOREHAM'S CLOSING

Furnishings of Hotel Will Be Sold at Public Auction by Receiver.

The Shoreham, at Fifteenth and H streets northwest, one of the largest and best known of Washington's hotels, will probably close its doors June 1.

Louis S. Levy, receiver for the corporation known as the Shoreham, which has been operating the hotel, was authorized yesterday by Chief Justice McCoy in equity court to close the business June 1 and sell the hotel property and equipment at auction.

Some of the furnishings of the hotel rooms will be sold to the occupants as they have informed Mr. Levy that they wanted to purchase. The court authorized the receiver to sell the furnishings in this manner because such a procedure will save the auctioneer's commission.

The hotel property has been advertised for sale, but so far no bids have been received. The property is mortgaged to the extent of $926,178.11, but is valued at considerably more than $1,000,000. The court increased the receiver's bond from $25,000 to $60,000. The receiver was also authorized to engage the services of a Washington auctioneer and proceed with the sale of the property and furnishings. The latter have been appraised at $62,700.

NATIONAL COAL BODY INDORSES SUFFRAGE FOR LOCAL CITIZENS

Holds District Is Entitled to Representation in House and Senate.

NEW JERSEY MERCHANT IS ELECTED PRESIDENT

Association Protests Against Measures Designed to Regulate Industry.

Representation in the national government was asked for the District in a resolution adopted by the National Retail Coal Merchants association at the final session of its ninth annual convention in the Willard hotel yesterday.

The association urged Congress to approve the joint resolution for a constitutional amendment to grant the District representation in the House and Senate and in the electoral college.

"Since the 500,000 Americans of the District pay national taxes, obey national laws and go to war in the nation's defense," said the association's resolution, "they are entitled on American principles to be represented in the national government which taxes them, which makes all laws for them, and which sends them to war."

Local Men Elected.

James C. Tattersall, of Trenton, N. J., was elected president of the association at the final session. The convention was voted the most successful in the association's history and Washington was praised as a convention city.

Joseph E. O'Toole, of this city, was elected resident vice president, and Rudolph Reimer, of Brooklyn, N. Y., was elected treasurer. Vice presidents elected were: J. Maury Dove, Jr., of this city; M. E. Robinson, Jr., of Chicago, Ill.; William A. Clark, Boston, Mass.; Charles E. Staats, Albany, N. Y.; George T. Kinney, Kansas City, Mo., and George W. Malcomson, Detroit, Mich.

The association adopted a resolution strongly protesting against the passage of legislation designed to regulate or control the coal industry. Such legislation was described as futile and discriminatory.

The association adopted a slogan, "Heat With Coal," and all retailers will be urged to use it in advertising matter.

Another resolution protested against the practice of coal producers in sending off-standard coal to retailers. The last resolution urged the producers to exercise more caution in loading coal, in order to prevent waste.

SIDE POLES LIKELY ON GEORGIA AVENUE AS CITIZENS' APPEAL

Plea for Underground Trolley Before Utilities Board Believed Lost.

AUTOMATIC PLOW LIFTS NEW TO TRACTION MEN

Both Companies Oppose Bus Line From Memorial to Downtown Area.

Indications, following a public hearing yesterday before the public utilities commission, pointed to a decision by the commission refusing the request of the Federation of Citizens Associations for change of the Georgia avenue street car line from overhead to underground trolley construction between Florida avenue and the District line.

All the citizens' associations in that part of the city supported the federation in its demand, but S. R. Bowen, counsel for the Washington Railway & Electric Co., said the change would cost $1,500,000.

William McK. Clayton, representing the federation, finally said he would be satisfied if the center trolley poles were replaced by side poles, but Bowen opposed this, too, saying the corporation had spent $380,000 since 1921 in replacing depreciated center poles. It is anticipated that the commission will order that future replacements be side poles, providing a piecemeal substitution.

Bus Extension Protested.

The federation also asked that automatic devices be installed in the plow pits of the street car companies for adjustment and removal of plow at points where the cars change from overhead to underground trolley and vice versa. The street car men said there was no such device known to them.

Hopkins to enter the District with a bus line from Hyattsville Mills, Md., to Tenth and K streets northwest.

W. H. Dorsey, of the Garfield Citizens association, opposed the Washington Railway & Electric Co.'s petition for permission to stop running buses to Blue Plains. No decisions were made by the commissioners.

Custody of Children Sought by Divorcee

Justice Hoehling in circuit court yesterday directed Harvey B. Prentiss, superintendent of the Gospel Mission, to bring into court next Monday Helen Houston, aged 19, and her brother, Joseph Houston, aged 9, children of Mrs. Florence A. Kenny, of New York, on a writ of habeas corpus sued out by the mother through Attorney Jean M. Boardman.

According to the petition the children were placed with the Children's Aid Society of the Mission, 328 C street northwest, by their father, Al J. Houston, a traveling salesman. Mrs. Kenny divorced Houston in Pennsylvania in 1922, she states, but her decree is silent as to the custody of the children. Mrs. Kenny says she has a home ready for them.
